SETTLEMENT OF FIUME PROBLEM EXPECTED

EATON FIRM ASKED TO LEAD WAY AND LOWER ITS PRICE OF SHOES

Friendly Suggestion Made to Big Toronto Concern
by Col. Price, Government Council at Cost-of-Living Inquiry in Ontario Capital

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Col. Price, Government counsel, who questioned the witnesses before the Board of Commerce inquiry here yesterday afternoon, endeavored to solve the riddle of why the city boot and shoe dealer, with his vastly greater turnover, could not undersell the country storekeeper, but was not altogether successful in reaching a solution. The principal reason advanced by the witnesses was that the city man's overhead expenses were proportionately so much greater than those of the country storekeeper that it could not be done and leave a reasonable margin of profit.

Col. Price did not appear satisfied that this was the case, and asked A. E. Grainger, assistant buyer for the shoe department of the T. Eaton Company, to place the matter before his general manager with an appeal that the T. Eaton Company, in view of the fact that its turnover was shown by its own figures to have been equal to what it was in 1913, while the scale of profits had remained the same, to lead the way in reducing the price of shoes.

"Your company may be said to occupy a leading position," said Colonel Price. "What it does to-day is likely to be followed by other stores to-morrow. Don't you think that the T. Eaton Company might be able to afford to lead the way in the matter of reducing prices?"

No direct answer to this was given. Mr. Grainger roughly estimated the department's operating margin as from 35 to 40 per cent.

A vigorous protest by the Omsk Government, however, led to the withdrawal of the demand.

Japanese Denial.
Tokio, Oct. 3.—Delayed—Denial that the Japanese threatened to back the Cossacks against the Americans in the recent incident at Iman, north of Vladivostok, or that an apology was demanded by the Americans, is made in a statement issued by the Japanese General Staff here to-day. The statement follows:

"According to facts which have been ascertained by the Japanese army, two Americans were arrested by Cossacks on a charge of having prevented by force the discharge of their duty by a Cossack officer in Iman, Siberia, on September 4. The Americans were transferred to Khabarovsk on September 6.

GRAIN BOARD BILL DEBATED AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The bill under which the operations of the Grain Board will be continued after the proclamation of peace was considered in the Commons yesterday afternoon.

D. D. McKenzie was disposed to think the method of handling the Canadian wheat crop adopted by the Government was absurd, while Mr. Robb complained that the price of wheat was lower in Canada than in the United States because of the Wheat Board's control of the importation and exportation of wheat.

Sir George Foster vigorously defended the plan adopted, and it was likewise approved by Hon. T. A. Crerar. Sir George told the House that approximately fifty per cent. of the surplus wheat crop had been disposed of by the Grain Board. He would not undertake to state the ultimate price the farmer would receive, because the sale of the remainder of the surplus would spread over several months.

In the Senate. That the organization of the Canadian National Railway Company has not been completed under the legislation incorporating that company was stated to the Senate yesterday by Sir James Loughheed in answer to an inquiry by Senator Bostock, leader of the Opposition. As to the further extension and construction of authorized lines, Sir James said that in some cases there had been extension of the time authorized for their construction.

The bill fixing the salaries of the members of the Board of Commerce was given third reading.

PROHIBITION BILLS TO BE PRESSED

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The prohibition bills were not proceeded with in the Commons yesterday, although it is understood the net result of the long drawn out Unionist caucus on the matter yesterday morning was that the legislation would be gone on with. Ministerial explanations in regard to the bills in caucus, it is said, went a long way in the direction of smoothing out opposition on the part of the Government's supporters.

On second reading of the bill to permit the temporary manufacture, importation and sale of oleomargarine, Donald Sutherland, J. H. Sinclair and other members renewed their objections, but oleomargarine found a friend in Dr. Michael Clark, who defended it as a good, and as a free trader favored this importation. Finally Frank Glass, Middlesex, moved the six months' hoist, and after some further discussion this was declared lost without a division.

URGES GOVERNMENT COLD STORAGE PLANT

Woodworth, Barrister, Gives Evidence at Food Inquiry in Vancouver

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—A Government-owned and operated cold storage plant for the use of producers and consumers, similar to the one established in the city of Cleveland, Ohio; operation by the Government of some system of distribution, and adoption of some method of price fixing, were advocated by C. M. Woodworth, a local barrister, at the cost-of-living inquiry here yesterday, as the means to bring about a reduction in the present high prices.

Mr. Woodworth quoted his own experience as the owner of a ranch in the Okanagan and as a purchaser of fruit from the fruit-growers and from retailers, and dealt with the prices paid for fresh meat, vegetables, fish and butter in Vancouver, and quoted the prices received by the producers. During his evidence Mr. Woodworth disclosed the fact that he had been quietly conducting an investigation into prices himself, and informed the Commissioner as to the results of the inquiries and purchases he had made.

On figures which he quoted dealing with the purchase of a box of apples he said he doubted very much if the grower received any more than one-third of the price paid by the consumer. This box of apples had cost him $2.50 here, out of which, he said, the grower had received 81 cents. His investigation had shown him, he said, that the retailer took 55 cents, the wholesaler 25 cents, freight about 19 cents and brokers about 30 cents, leaving a small balance for packing, etc. The wholesaler and the retailer alone, he said, got more than the grower.

F. R. Stewart. Averring that no ring or combine of wholesalers on the West coast existed and that no such association had ever been thought of, F. R. Stewart, of the wholesale produce firm of Stewart & Co., occupied the stand nearly all the afternoon.

His remarks were in reply to a printed pamphlet presumed to have come from the Rev. A. E. Cook, alleging that a combine was partially responsible for many of the high costs to-day. This statement Mr. Stewart termed as ridiculous. "Sensational stories have been written about the street, but they were the false statements of irresponsible men," said he. "We can always look for something sensational from Mr. Cook, and I do not see how any sane man can make such statements as are printed in that pamphlet."

Mr. Stewart told of the manner and from where his firm bought its meats. It purchased green meat from the packers and cured it itself.

Bacon bought on the prairies for 49 cents, when cured sold here for 53½ cents. Grades that last June cost 52½ cents, the selling price of which was 56 and 57, now were selling for 51 and 52. The difference between the best grades of Swift's and other packers was found in the evenings of quality of selected hogs and more expensive methods of curing.

The net profit accruing to the firm amounted to about two per cent, and not any more. That the witness thought was a fair margin, and the public could not complain of it. His firm had 36,000 eggs in cold storage, and if eggs were not held in cold storage only the very rich, who could afford to pay fancy prices, would be eating them now.

Approximately 1,000,000 pounds of butter also was held by the firm, which was not an unusual amount, other firms carrying as much. When asked the turnover of the firm for last year, by J. B. Pattullo, K.C., he refused to make the public. "I have stated that we operate on a fair profit, said the witness. The public does not want to know our business returns. If they realize that we are only making a two per cent. profit they will not consider our dealings unreasonable."

EX-SOLDIERS' NEEDS IN SASKATCHEWAN

Regina, Oct. 10.—The special committee of the Provincial Great War Veterans' Association executive appointed to receive and deal with the committee of the House of Commons investigating soldiers' re-establishment has wired Ottawa that an analysis of the questionnaires from returned men in Saskatchewan shows more help is desired.

Money is required for settling on farms, starting in business and for housing. Some requests are made for help in getting further education and to provide life insurance. Many soldiers cannot take up land for lack of the ten per cent. deposit required. The shortage of houses is particularly referred to.

MRS. MAY COULD NOT WORK

Made Well and Strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbia, Pa.—"I was very weak and run down and had dragging-down pains and pains in my back. I could not get around to do my work and had to sit down and rest often during the day. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the paper and read the testimonials, so I thought I would try it. Now I am healthier than I ever was in my life, and can recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."
—Mrs. ELIZABETH MAY, R.F.D. No. 1, Columbia, Pa.

The reason Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming woman's ills is because it contains the tonic strengthening properties of good old fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and the letters which we are constantly publishing from women in every section of this country prove beyond question the merit of this famous root and herb medicine.

NOMINATIONS FOR ONTARIO ELECTION

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Wm. Proudfoot, ex-M.P.P., former Liberal leader in the Ontario Legislature, who has been rejected by his old-time Liberal friends and constituents because of his having favored the Union Government and consequently is to receive the support of the Conservatives of Centre Huron in his candidacy as an independent in the forthcoming Provincial general election.

At a meeting of the Conservative party at Seaford it was decided not to put a candidate in the field. It was felt that some recognition was due to Mr. Proudfoot in view of the way he joined hands with Sir William Hoarst in the extension of the life of the Legislature until after the war, and because he assisted greatly in the formation of the Union Government. Mr. Proudfoot announced himself as an independent candidate.

J. M. Govenlock is the Liberal candidate and James Livingston, the candidate of the United Farmers of Ontario.

It was announced last night by the Independent Labor party here that J. P. Buckley, Labor candidate in Northeast Toronto, was making his fight for "B" seat of the riding. From present indications there will be three candidates for the seat—Captain Joseph Thompson, Conservative, Mrs. J. W. Bundy, for the Liberals, and the Labor candidate.

Unless the Liberal convention for Northeast Toronto should decide to have a candidate in seat "A," Hon. H. J. Cody, Minister of Education, will be returned by acclamation.

Conservatives of Southeast Toronto were addressed last night by their candidates and by Brigadier-General Hon. A. E. Ross, newly appointed Minister without portfolio in the Hearst Cabinet. General Ross saw signs that the United Farmers and Liberals were planning a union for the purpose of piling up a winning majority in the Legislature. Within two days, he stated, two Liberals had withdrawn from the field in favor of United Farmer candidates and two United Farmer candidates had withdrawn.

Hamilton, Oct. 10.—With six candidates entered in the two ridings, Hamilton is all set for the Provincial center. The line-up for the Legislature is as follows:
West Hamilton—W. R. Helle, Labor; John A. McFarlane, Conservative; James Dixon, Liberal.

East Hamilton—Controller G. C. Halcrow, Labor; Lieut. Sam Landers, Independent-Labor-Soldier, and Captain M. L. Fitzgerald, Grand Army of Canada.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING PLAN IS A SUCCESS

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—Soldiers trained in the vocational schools are giving splendid satisfaction to their employers in Canada, in the opinion of the employers heard by the special Commons committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment yesterday. There were eight witnesses who had employed re-established men in various lines of work, and all of them were delighted with the industry of the men. Many of these employers had trained the men and then kept them right on as employees of their industry.
Men were not always proficient when their six or eight months' term was completed, and some of the witnesses favored extending the term, but they said a man was well grounded in his trade, and would soon improve in his new work. Organized labor is sympathetic to the returned men, the witnesses stated.

Five of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, voiced the idea that Canada had the best vocational training system in any of the Allied countries. He thought also that labor conditions here were not such as to justify pessimism. He suggested that Canada should have all employment bureaus under a centralized control and that every private employment office should be abolished.

Moncton, N.B., Oct. 10.—The fifth annual convention of the Retail Merchants' Association of New Brunswick concluded yesterday after a two days' session. Resolutions were passed favoring legislation making Thanksgiving Day a permanent celebration day and that both this and Armistice Day be on Monday each year, strongly opposing the methods of the Board of Commerce, and expressing the conviction that it would not succeed unless competent commercial men were on the board, and opposing the carrying of parcel post packages by mail and the paying of losses out of the funds of the country.

Berlin, Oct. 9, via London, Oct. 10.—The greater portion of the German troops under General von Goltz whose recall from the Baltic provinces was demanded by the Allies and ordered by the German Government, are now on the way back to Germany, according to semi-official information received by The Tagblatt. The advisers declare, however, that the Germans are badly hampered in their movements by the enmity of the Estonians and the Letts who are putting obstacles in the way of progress along the eighty-kilometer stretch between Mittau and Shavil, where an opportunity offers itself to delay the Germans.

NO NATIONALIZATION.

At the recent Trades Union Congress in Glasgow a resolution favoring the nationalization of Great Britain's coal mining industry was almost unanimous in its passage. The subject is a hardy perennial and for years there has been an overwhelming vote for state ownership and state control. Sir John Sankey's investigation and his subsequent reports to the Government very naturally had a great deal to do with the more emphatic demand of the miners. And it was expected that the Government's agreement to the seven-hour day and a thirty per cent. increase in wages could be interpreted merely as a prelude to a contest in respect of the broader question.

Yesterday's delegation to Downing Street presented the unanimous demand of the Trades Union Congress, and it met with a flat refusal from the Prime Minister. In an address which took an hour to deliver Mr. Lloyd George made it clear that the Government did not intend to accept the recommendations of the Coal Commission to acquire and operate the mines of the country as state property. Once more, therefore, the war-time Government of Britain faces the possibility of conflict with another branch of the Triple Alliance.

Mr. Lloyd George's decision, however, is not likely to precipitate a crisis for the moment as the delegation promised to report to the members of the various unions on October 22 next. In the meantime, therefore, it is to be hoped that a permanent negotiating committee proposed recently by Mr. Gosling, of the Transport Workers' Federation, will be agreed to by the majority of organized labor. Unless some such body is empowered by the workers themselves a new industrial disruption may not be so short-lived as that caused by the recent railway strike.

Appropos of the recent trouble it is interesting to note that one of the negotiators who took part in the conference, which ended in agreement between the National Union of Railwaymen and the Government, made this observation: "We are going to resume work together more amicably than in recent months." If this Trade Union official speaks with authority and voices the sentiment of the majority of workers the monetary loss, occasioned by the dislocation of industry, will be willingly written off. It is not difficult, of course, to adopt a benevolent attitude in the face of a victory. We are inclined to believe, however, that the workingman of Great Britain fully understands that there is a limit to which he can go with hope of success with the strike weapon.

Mr. Lloyd George gave no hope to the miners' delegation yesterday and, although some of the former extremist advocates of "direct action" were active peace-makers in the railway strike settlement, the best test of their goodwill is yet to come. On the other hand, it is obvious that if the miners want to see their policy adopted by the House of Commons, they must convince the people that nationalization is the correct course.

British political system ordains that the majority shall rule. Minorities of any kind—whether miners or dukes—may not dragoon the community at will. Nationalization, like every other political or economic proposal, must be treated to reasonable discussion on its merits. There are two sides to the question and the people have as much right to say whether the Government shall go into the coal business on their behalf as the miners have to urge their cause. Moreover, there is no political reform which the work-people of Great Britain or Canada cannot achieve by the ballot box.

REGISTRATION CLOSES TO-MORROW.

Up till five o'clock to-morrow afternoon all those persons who are eligible to vote at the forthcoming Federal by-election, and who have not yet registered, may get their names on the voters' list by applying to the Court of Revision. It must be remembered, however, that no other opportunity will be given and only those whose names appear on the list may exercise the franchise on October 27. Several thousand eligible voters, male and female, have failed to register to date, while a belief exists in some quarters that previous eligibility still holds good and dispenses with the necessity to register again. This is not the case. The lists that will be used on October 27 have been compiled under the amended Dominion Elections Act which has no regard for previous lists.

WHAT IS A MEMBER FOR?

During the discussion of the Civil Service Act in the House of Commons recently some of the members displayed curious conceptions of their responsibilities and duties as representatives of the people in Parliament, by criticizing the legislation because it abolished patronage. One of them stigmatized the Act as objectionable because it deprived the member of every privilege except that of "standing up in the House and speaking and voting."

What a horrible thing to do! Speaking, voting and enacting legislation apparently are minor considerations among this member's duties; boring formalities which really ought to be limited to the smallest point consistent with constitutional requirement. His chief duty, as he sees it, is to find Government jobs for his constituents, principally those constituents who helped to elect him. These of course, must be appointed on the recommendation of his patronage committee, which works overtime on the task while he is engaged in "standing up in the House and voting and speaking." Therefore, if he feels he is of no use as a law-maker or as a speaker and voter in the House, what, indeed, is there left for him if the Civil Service Act deprives him of the privilege of filling Government positions? What qualification has he as a representative? What can he ask the electors to elect him for?

Verily, certain parts of this Dominion are sadly in need of political enlightenment. The man with the village outlook still sits in Parliament utterly unconscious of why he is there. To him the tremendous problems affecting the country, including himself and his constituents, which can only be solved in Parliament and for the solution of which Parliament exists, are meaningless terms. He merely stands up in the House and speaks and votes without realizing the significance of his actions. But when it comes to jobs for "the boys"—ah, now we are talking about real statesmanship and the proper function of a member of Parliament!

G. W. V. A. TAG DAY TO-MORROW.

Three and a half years ago what is now known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as the Great War Veterans' Association of Canada held its inaugural meeting in Victoria with a charter membership of eleven men. The first gathering took place in a small candle-light room, but an increasing membership quickly demanded more commodious accommodation. For several months sanctuary was provided in the Belmont Block, and two years ago His Excellency the Governor-General formally opened the present quarters on Fort Street. So great has grown the membership of the local branch, however, that a still larger hostel is required. On that account a campaign has been launched and, although the members of the G. W. V. A. themselves have responded with a liberal subscription for bonds, the enterprise which has for its object the purchase of Patricia Hall is necessarily a costly one. Therefore, to aid the men who did such magnificent work in France a Tag Day is to be held to-morrow, and we feel sure that Victorians will guarantee the G. W. V. A. building fund a very generous response.

TWO PER CENT. PROFIT.

One of British Columbia's foremost wholesalers told the High Cost of Living Commissioner in Vancouver yesterday that his firm operated on a fair profit and the public did not want to know what the business returns of his concern were. Once the public realizes that "we are only making a two per cent. profit they will not consider our dealings unreasonable," said the witness. In the absence of details from which a different conclusion might be drawn, the general public will have to console itself with this statement. It must be remembered, however, that some rather startling revelations in other parts of the country have directed public thought into channels of its own fashioning. On that account it will not be surprising if the people of British Columbia ask themselves how it is that an investment earning only two per cent. is not translated into other branches of commerce where the inducements are, to say the least, considerably more inviting and less risky.

THE "GENTLEMEN'S AGREEMENT."

The California State Confederation of Labor in debating a resolution which urges the cancellation of the "gentlemen's agreement" between the United States and Japan regarding Japanese immigration to the republic, claiming that the understanding is being "systematically violated in spirit and letter."

By the so-called "gentlemen's agreement," to which the resolution refers, Japan undertakes to limit the emigration of her subjects to the United States to a certain specified number each year. Canada has a similar arrangement under which the Government at Tokyo restricts the number of Japanese leaving for Canada each year to four hundred. These agreements are distinct from the trade treaties which both Canada and the United States have with Japan, one section of which provides that "the subjects of each of the two high contracting parties shall have full liberty to enter, travel and reside in any part of the dominions and possessions of the other contracting party, and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property."

Hence, if the "gentlemen's agreement" between the United States and Japan were cancelled the latter would stand firmly upon this section of the treaty—which the agreement suspends—and the United States would be confronted with the alternative of violating the treaty or denouncing it. Canada occupies a precisely similar position.

Japan has faithfully observed both the spirit and letter of the agreement with Canada and, notwithstanding the resolution of the California State Federation of Labor, which gives no details or statistics in support of its charges, we are reasonably certain that she has done the same in respect of her agreement with the United States.

MR. WARREN'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

Considerable satisfaction will be felt in the interior mining districts over the announcement from London yesterday accredited to J. J. Warren, of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, at Trail. Mr. Warren is of the opinion that Canada can supply ten per cent. of the world's annual demand for zinc which would mean production in this country of 780,000 tons, as against the present output of 25,000 tons. The Consolidated Company already has large properties in British Columbia, while its new development work is being extended continually. Moreover, increased smelting facilities at Trail, the erection of the company's proposed concentrating mills on Vancouver Island, at Rossland and at Kimberley are possible developments which should synchronize with a more general mining activity throughout the Province.

COUNCIL WILL MEET SOLDIERS AGAIN ON HOUSING SCHEME

Aldermen Will Consult Returned Men Before Making Final Decision

In order that it may consult a committee of returned men on the matter, the special committee of the City Council considering the Federal housing scheme will postpone the presentation to the Council of its report for or against the scheme. It is thus probable that no action will be taken until a week from Monday. It will be recalled that some time ago the Council's committee on housing asked a committee representing the returned men to co-operate with it in its deliberations. The two committees then proceeded to go into the scheme together, sifting out various details over which disputes had arisen. In this way considerable progress was made, but certain knotty points had to be referred to the Provincial authorities for explanations were made in due course in communications from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, but the joint committee representing the Council and the returned men has not yet met to consider them. The aldermen, however, have gone into the communications from the Minister and will meet the soldier committee next week. It had been the intention of the Council to present its report on Monday evening, but the meeting with the returned men will delay this action for another week.

CITY COMPLETING "TRAIL" PROGRAMME

Few More Streets Remain to Be Improved This Year; Other Works

Work on "trails" in various parts of the city, as provided for in the annual estimates is being completed by the City Engineer's department. About four more of these trails remain to be laid before the year's programme is complete. This work will be done in the course of the next two months. At present a gang of workmen is effecting improvements to Cowan Avenue, where a considerable quantity of rock is being taken out with the aid of a steam drill.

Work on Pandora Avenue near the site of the new Christian Science Church has been completed. This work included the blasting of much rock, leveling and the laying of sewers. The work of painting the Point Ellice Bridge is going forward now under contract, but was delayed on account of rain to-day. Considerable part of the painting has been completed.

EMPIRE PRESS UNION'S VISIT TO CANADA

London, Oct. 10.—Sir Henry Britton will leave next Wednesday for Canada to assist in the arrangements for the visit next year of representatives of the Empire Press Union, who will visit the Dominion as the guests of the Government. The party will include fifty members of the British press and thirty from newspapers in other parts of the Empire. The party will land early in August and remain until the end of September.

An invitation for the party to continue its journey to Australia has been declined. Lord Burnham, owner of The Daily Telegraph, will head the gathering. Lord Northcliffe also will be in the party.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR POSTMASTERS

Ottawa, Oct. 10.—An indication that the Government contemplates some changes in respect to the salaries of postmasters and assistant postmasters is given in a notice by Hon. A. E. MacLean of a bill "to amend the Civil Service Act of 1918 with respect to the salaries of certain postmasters and assistant postmasters."

During the recent sessions of the special committee considering the Civil Service Bill dealing with reclassification now before Parliament, a general protest was registered by members against the salaries received by postmasters, more particularly country postmasters, at the present time.

Helsingfors, Oct. 10.—The Russian Soviet Government is willing to begin negotiations with representatives of the Baltic states at Dorpat, Livonia, it is declared by M. Tchitcherine says that while the Soviet Government would have preferred that the negotiations be carried on within Soviet territory, it agrees to the selection of Dorpat as the place for holding them and suggests they begin on October 12.

Lack of Discipline

Discussing the prevailing lack of discipline, the Minister declared it made it easy for German troops to go over into the Russian service, and he asserted that people "were daily approaching the Foreign Office in a secret manner with information to the effect that the Entente would be pleased to see German troops fighting in Russian units."

"If the Entente is desirous of having us withdraw the last German troops from Russian formations," he said, "we might be permitted to express the desire that the Entente request Russians to discontinue attracting Germans to their service."

LOCAL ARTISTS GIVE
PLEASING PROGRAMME

Big Audience Delighted With
Ladies' Musical Club
Concert

That the attachment of the name of the Ladies' Musical Club to the announcement of a concert is to the average Victorian criterion of a high standard of musical excellence was once again demonstrated last night when a big audience filled the Alexandra Club ball-room for the first concert of the Club's winter series. Nor were the listeners disappointed for upon a programme of pleasing catholicity there was not one mediocre number, and Mrs. Gideon Hicks, the convener deserves every congratulation for assembling such an array of talent.

A prominent place was taken upon the programme by Miss Joy Calvert, a talented young violinist, who has not been heard upon the local platform for over a year. While her first number the Adagio Sonata (Bach) did not prove as popular as others in her two groups, it revealed the tremendous strides made by the young artist since her last appearance here. By her studies in the interim she has added considerably to her technical equipment and musical understanding, while her powers of interpretation have developed surprisingly for so young an artist. Her playing of the three movements from the Vieuxtemps Concerto No. 2 gave more than a hint of the possibilities of this young violinist when maturity has given to her that touch of "soul" so essential to the true artist.

Miss Eva Hart proved as popular a favorite as ever, her innate artistry expressing itself in her three numbers, "Cara Nome," "Bach's," "If Thou Thy Heart Wilt Give Me" and "Pourquoi Rester Seul?" (Saint Saens), the last number being given with dramatic intensity. Charming in its airy daintiness was her singing of "What's in the Air To-Day."

After a long absence from the local concert platform, Miss Nellie Lugin made a welcome re-appearance. Her contralto voice is of full, pleasing quality and was heard to advantage in the two difficult numbers, Spohr's "Candida Rosa" and Meyerbeer's "Olet Signor." Ernest Petch, another vocalist who for some time has been a stranger to local audiences, was in excellent voice, his fine bass being eminently suited to Huhn's dramatic "Invictus," while Nelson's "The Windmill," while careful phrasing and pleasing expression marked his rendering of the encore number, "Tommy Lad." Miss Marjorie Heming contributed two pianoforte numbers, Brahms' Scherzo and Rhapsody, her playing revealing a full equipment of technique and interpretative skill. Mrs. C. C. Warn accompanied the vocal numbers in her own inimitable way, while Miss Una Calvert officiated in similar capacity for the violin numbers.

A BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggly and the Skuddlemagoon.
Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
(By Howard K. Garis.)

Out in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy was washing dishes after supper and singing.

"My muskrat lady housekeeper is very jolly this evening," said Uncle Wiggly Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman. "She is a dear, good soul! I think I'll take her to the moving pictures!"

Going to the kitchen door, Mr. Longears called:

"Nurse Jane, put on your bonnet and shawl and we'll go around the corner and see the new moving picture. It's called 'Cabbage Heads and Pig Feet' and Curly and Floppy Twistytail, the two piggy boys, have parts in it. Come along!"

"Oh, I can't!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "I must finish washing the dishes, and by that time it will be so late I wouldn't be able to get ready."

"Nonsense!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "You get ready, Nurse Jane. I'll finish washing the dishes. I guess I can wash them, even if I can't bake a cake. Trot along!"

So the muskrat lady dried her paws on her apron and went upstairs to get ready to go to the moving pictures. Uncle Wiggly took off his coat and, pinning an apron in front of his red vest so he wouldn't splash it with water, he started to finish washing and drying the supper dishes. Nurse Jane had the hot water all ready in the pan.

"Washing dishes is fun!" said Uncle Wiggly with a laugh and a twinkle of his pink nose. "It makes your paws so nice and white!"

He took hold of the cake of soap, and he was just going to sozzle it around in the water, to make suds, when the door of the kitchen suddenly opened, and in popped the bad old Skuddlemagoon.

"Well, you're at home, I see!" growled the bad chap, as he caught sight of Uncle Wiggly.

"Yes," spoke the bunny, and he wished he had been out when the Skuddlemagoon called. "But still, and with all that, he wouldn't have wanted Nurse Jane to meet the unpleasant creature."

"I s'pose you know what I've come for?" asked the Skuddlemagoon, who was something like the Pipsissewah, only worse.

"Did you come for my souse?" Uncle Wiggly inquired, sort of diffident like and emotional.

"Right!" snuffed the Skuddlemagoon.

"I want some souse for my supper! But what are you doing with an apron on, and a lot of water and dishes in the sink?"

"I'm helping Nurse Jane, so she will be able to go to the moving pictures with me," answered the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I'm washing the dishes, and if you want to help me, why you may."

"O, ho!" howled the Skuddlemagoon. "Maybe you think if I do that I'll forget about your souse!"

Uncle Wiggly did not answer.

"But I will not forget howled the Skuddlemagoon. 'I'll help you wash the dishes, but after they are done I'll have all the souse I want! And if you haven't enough I'll take some of Nurse Jane's!'"

"Oh, that will be dreadful!" thought Uncle Wiggly. "I wonder what I can do to drive him away! The bunny was so excited that he squeezed the cake of soap too hard and it popped into the dishpan full of water with a splash."

"What was that?" asked the Skuddlemagoon.

"A cake of soap!" answered Uncle Wiggly.

Now the Skuddlemagoon was a little hard of hearing, and he thought Uncle Wiggly said "A cake—I hope." But the bunny had really said "Cake of soap."

"Oh, ho! Cake, eh?" cried the Skuddlemagoon. "Well, let me have that. I'll see what kind of cake it is before I eat your souse! I like cake!"

Uncle Wiggly fished the cake of soap out of the dishwater. The soap was very wet and—well, you know how soap is, I guess.

"Here you are," said the bunny rabbit gentleman.

The Skuddlemagoon took the cake of soap in his paw, but no sooner had he done so that it slipped out again, just as soap often will.

"Bang!" it fell on the floor.

"Oh, ho! I mustn't lose my cake that way," cried the bad chap. He picked up the soap, but it slipped from his paw again, and slid across the kitchen leaving a slimy trail behind.

"Oh, ho! You are a lively piece of cake," cried the Skuddlemagoon. "You think you'll get away from me, do you? Well, I'll show you!"

He gave a big jump, thinking to jump on the cake of soap and he did. He landed right on it.

"Whizz! Whizz! Whuzz!" went graps

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

Mayor and Mrs. Thos. Pitt, of Dunsmuir, have been spending the past few days in Vancouver at the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grassie.

Miss Whitfield returned to her home in this city after a trip to Vancouver. During her stay in the Mainland city she was a guest at the Glenora Lodge.

Capt. and Mrs. Herbert Ross have arrived in Montreal from England and are expected to reach Vancouver early next week. Capt. Ross is the son of W. R. Ross, of Victoria.

Dr. and Mrs. G. Glenora, of this city, who have been visiting in Vancouver for a few days were guests at a dinner given on Tuesday evening by Mrs. R. S. Morrison, Pender Street, Vancouver.

The first of the winter series of musical "At Home" arranged by the Ladies' Musical Club will be held at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Nash, at Pemberton Road on Saturday afternoon next, October 18.

Capt. F. E. Margeson, D.D.S., who went overseas with the Royal Dental Corps in 1918, and who has since his return been working in Victoria among the returned soldiers, was released from military duties September 30. Last week he visited his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Margeson, of Vancouver. He left for Nanaimo on Monday and will resume his practice in that city.

Engaged on special work for the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment, Lieut.-Colonel W. W. Foster, D.S.O., late commanding officer of the 52nd Battalion, is making his headquarters in Vancouver for the next few days. Colonel Foster has been commissioned by the department to investigate conditions affecting re-establishment in British Columbia and to report to the policy pursued up to the present and to make any suggestions as to changes or additions to these policies which may seem to be required. Colonel Foster has visited many of the principal districts in the West during the last few weeks.

Local friends of John O. Evans, who acted as temporary manager of the Empress Hotel prior to the return from overseas of Colonel Humble, will be interested in the following item from a prairie paper of recent date: "Before the Chateau at Lake Louise was closed at the end of what has been the busiest season in its history, Mr. John O. Evans was presented with a handsome wardrobe trunk, and a leather silver-fitted traveling case. Both were gifts of the members of the staff, and the presentation was made by assistant manager, Mr. L. A. Quayle. More than 400 people were present at the time in the ball room, and they included the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland, Mr. Dudley Ward, M.P., and General Jack Stewart. The evening ended with dancing, and amongst those who joined in were two parties from Calgary and Banff, who had come over to Lake Louise for the occasion."

Mrs. Chas. F. Law, Burnaby Street, Vancouver, entertained at a small tea on Wednesday afternoon, in honor of her guest, Miss Doris Wilson, of Victoria, Mrs. J. G. McLaren and Mrs. E. J. Deacon, presiding at the tea table. The ladies were cut by Mrs. Blythe D. Rogers. Other guests were Mrs. Duncan Bell-Irving, Mrs. Colin Graham, Mrs. Reginald Tupper, Mrs. Van Rogen, Miss Geraldine Cambie, Mrs. Harry Roberts, Miss Beth Roberts, Miss Winnifred London, Miss Juliette London, Miss Marjorie Sherwood, Miss Dorothy Gordon, Miss Dorothy Waghorn, Miss Barbara Hogg, Miss Eleanor Hutchins, Miss Dorothy Langford, Miss Kitty Armour, Mrs. Stevenson, Miss Jean Macdonald, Miss Dorothy Sweeney, Miss Elsie Rogers, Miss Theo Wright, Miss Eva Lowen, Miss Kathleen Farrell, Miss Sheila Russell, Miss Mavis McAlpine, Miss Vera Calland, Miss Phyllis Calland, Miss Margaret Stewart, Miss Betty Wynne Johnson, Miss Violet Holt and Miss Joe Holt.

Mrs. Arthur Paget of Winnipeg, reached Vancouver yesterday and will make her home in Victoria for the future. Prairie residents of the city will doubtless be interested in the following excerpt from a Winnipeg paper, a propos of her departure for the Coast: "An opportunity was given a privileged few of viewing the miniatures of Mrs. Arthur Paget, a clever exponent of that most rare, delicate and difficult branch of portraiture, at a small tea at which Mrs. John Glasco, Evergreen Place, was hostess, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs.

the Skuddlemagoon's feet out from under him, and down he came "Ker-bunko" on the floor. And he fell right on the spot where the bad chap had made very slippery; and out of the door he slid, down the steps, bumpily, landing on his nose.

"O, wow," cried the Skuddlemagoon, as he limped away! "No more cake for me! Next time I'll take care!"

So he didn't get Uncle Wiggly at all, and soon the bunny picked up the slippery cake of soap by sticking a fork in it, and he finished the dishes and he and Nurse Jane went to the movies and liked them very much.

The unlucky Tommy in Russia was telling his troubles to a sympathetic friend.

IN GERMANY TO-DAY

By George Renwick in The London Daily Chronicle.
Article No. 2.

This is the second of a series of three articles written by Mr. George Renwick, the special correspondent of The London Daily Chronicle in Berlin on conditions in Germany at the present time.

The National Assembly, by passing the new Constitution of the Republic of Germany, has set up an historic milestone, from which it may not be unprofitable to look backwards over the nine tremendous months through which the country has passed since her sailors hoisted the Red Flag on the warships at Kiel.

"What an exciting time you must have had in Germany!" people say to me. But, as a matter of fact, the "time" I have had has often, as far as events were concerned, been almost dull.

In reality, Berlin since the beginning of March has been quite as tranquil as London. Munich and Frankfurt, for instance, certainly behaved worse than Liverpool and Luton, but they did not, I am sure, any more seriously threaten the stability of the central authority. So if we are to grasp the German situation properly—and it will be well for us to know Germany a good deal better in the future than we have done in the past—the general impression created by much of the "news" of the last four or five months must be revised.

Exaggerated Disorders.

In the first place, it is necessary to understand that the disorders which have taken place have been reported from "neutral" centres, with the aid of much Bolshevism of the imagination, and disorders have often been reported which never took place at all. Semi-official sources in Germany herself are not entirely blameless, for, by exaggeration, by suppression and by suggestion, they hoped to lull people, rebellious, angry or alarmed, into calm.

We have to remember, too, that there are agencies at work—not all unconnected with the Russian Bolshevik mafia—with the intention of making still worse relations between Germany and other countries, had as they are. Your Bolshevik does not wish Germany to trade and settle down eventually into an orderly state; nor does he wish other countries to benefit by trade with Germany. So, using various channels, he inspires "news" with the object of stirring up more bad feeling and its consequent unrest.

People point to Munich as an example of the degree of order which may be expected in the new Germany. But the latest "revolution" there was the work of a group of non-Germans. The numerous strikes in Germany, as elsewhere, were caused in the first place, by the high cost of living; workers were naturally ready to profit by the fact that the iron authority of other days had gone; they suffered from the general lassitude to which I referred in the previous article, and "holidays" were not unattractive.

A Return to Discipline.

But failure in general attended the efforts to make these strikes political weapons. When a few shops were looted, that is not Sparta; when people are hungry. When a few shots are fired in the streets, that is not Bolshevism; the soldiers, mostly young and inexperienced, often suffer from nervous tension and act rashly—which people who know what street fighting is will excuse.

The impartial observer is forced to admit that the German has, since the fearful and final downfall of the old regime, shown to no small degree his characteristics of orderliness and discipline. Consider the situation as it was at the end of the year. As military disaster was seen to be drawing near, the old Imperial system collapsed; rulers fled, abdicated, or were deposed; with the signing of the armistice the army broke and melted away; hundreds of thousands of men were crossing the Rhine in undisciplined floods; stupendous quantities of arms and ammunition of all kinds were strewn, otherwise, over a large part of the country, for anyone to pick up; the rebel navy sending everywhere its unskilled missionaries of revolt; food distribution suffered shockingly; great war industries suddenly ceased to give employment; the whole governmental machine slowed gratingly to a standstill.

The Mental Shock of Defeat.

In addition to all this the people as a whole sustained a frightful mental shock. Though they had really abandoned their revised as well as their early hope of victory, Pan-German style, it was, indeed, a knock-out blow for them to be brought so suddenly, as the brief Prince-Max regime did bring them, to the tragic realization what the end of all was to be an unrelieved disaster. In such circumstances it appeared to be only too certain that all was ripe for a crowning catastrophe beyond the power of man to retrieve—for Bolshevism, in short, to sweep easily over the lightly-guarded eastern frontiers.

But while the picture with which the world was presented had the colors of chaos and confusion much too thickly laid on, while foreign countries were crossed in a mirage of misstatement, the new regime was performing a feat—one of the two great achievements to its credit, the other being the drawing up of the new constitution—the skill of which, I think, has not been sufficiently recognized.

The runaway team was pulled up; the brand of national life was plucked from the burning. Men, quite unaccustomed to the art and science of government, children in the work with which they were suddenly faced, restored a certain degree of tranquility, aided by the general discipline of the people, by that of the officials of the public services and the municipalities—which are not wholly undemocratic—and by that of a remnant of the army.

The new men certainly did their best; they kept at bay the violent extremists—the Liebknechts and the Luxemburgs, which was far from being easy between November and February; they gained experience, and, though strike followed strike, though ever and anon in different parts of the country lawlessness lighted its grim flares, while poverty howled, while hunger raged and irresponsible wealth made merry, these men did work which resulted in there being a Germany with which to conclude peace, instead of a burning, chaotic mass which, in the midst of the Continent would have cost Europe dear.

Now, in addition to showing how relatively well the new regime acted, and how it was supported by the discipline of the broad masses of the people, it is necessary to point out that the word "revolution" must here be considerably qualified.

The German Revolution of 1918 was not a sudden thing; it has never given any real signs of following the example of Russia. German mentality is not that of the Russian; nor were the two great hostile camps in Germany animated by such bitter antagonism as was the case in Russia. Rather, the revolution has developed fairly closely on the lines of the liberal revolution of 1848 in Germany; the analogy is, indeed, an interesting one for the student.

Eclipse of Socialism.

The present revolution has not, so far, been conspicuously socialist; it is not too much to say that it appears to have turned its back on socialism; in reality its main features have been provided by the democrats. (The new Constitution is mainly their work, and especially that of Dr. Preuss, the democratic Minister of the Interior.)

Since the Government was purged of the Independent Socialists, the trend of its policy has been more and more towards moderation. Socialism, for the purposes of realizing the revolution, eventually allied itself with the Democrats (with whom it has at present broken for a little, but the co-operation will be resumed), and with the Catholic Centre party.

Signs Before the War.

Anyone who knew Germany before the war was aware that the men of the liberalizing "revolution" of 1848—which can be traced back through France to our own Chartist movement—had lighted a lamp not to be put out. The forces of Socialism and the old regime and the Kaiser were really not nearly so popular as was thought in other countries.

Long before the war careful observers had seen signs which showed that Germany was in peril of change. M. Henri Lichtenberger, of the University of Paris, in his great book, "Germany and its Evolution in Modern Times"—a volume which the student of Germany would do well not to forget—saw, like many others, signs that the people were getting tired of the Imperialistic regime so strikingly personified in the Kaiser, and he heard, as did others, a louder protest against the system of personal government.... and the abuses which spring from it."

To the world the German downfall appeared to come suddenly; well-known statesmen on this side could see no signs of it a few weeks before Kiel "went Red." But Kiel played in the revolution a role like the part Serravallo played in the war; neither was the cause, but only the occasion.

The Death of Militarism.

After nearly five months in Germany I am convinced that from about March, 1915, when the bulk of ordinary thinking people gave up all hope of victory as the Pan-Germans would have had it, the liberal spirit which brought about the revolution of 1848 began to flourish seriously again. The winter of 1915-17—the "winter of turnips," which proved so disastrous to the German "inner front"—fanned that spirit from the glow of Liberalism to the fire of Socialism. By the autumn of 1917, revolution was inevitable.

Adds Zest

It was then that the retreat from the Moscow of Militarism really began. Little by little, food conditions became worse, and heartless profiteering not only scoured the masses but hampered the authorities in the conduct of the war. Though the press continued to talk in as high-pitched tones as those of 1914, there were few people in Germany who had, in March, 1918, sufficient enthusiasm left to be stirred to hope by the offensive began towards the end of the month.

The revolution eventually came about far more on account of the utter collapse of the worn out regime than by reason of any revolutionary activity.

The Socialistic forces were not prepared to face the consequences of such a sudden and complete crash; they had not the men; the old system had not educated, or trained them. So Socialism had to call more moderate men to its aid. National discipline, as I have said, kept the country's officials at their posts, and, as the Socialist laboratory has not produced any of the much talked of and also much feared "panaceas," this official class of moderate opinion have become more and more convinced of the impossibility of a return of the old order of things (a conviction which recent political revelations will only tend to deepen), and of the possibility of progress along ordered paths and of saving their country from reaction on the one hand and extreme Socialism on the other.

"To the victors the spoils" is a motto which has not been adopted by the Socialist; As I have said, they have not the men, and they have recognized the importance of retaining and obtaining experienced co-operation. ASK are you logical in your use of medicine? When your stomach is ailing you take something that reaches the stomach, but what the trouble is in your lungs or breathing passages, do you take something that gets there direct? This is where so many people make a mistake. They swallow remedies into the stomach in a vain attempt to cure an ailment which is of the lungs! Then they wonder why they receive no benefit.

For ailments of the lungs and breathing passages the logical treatment is the use of a remedy that is breathable and therefore capable of reaching the lungs direct.

Peps is that kind of remedy—a breathable remedy in tablet form. When Peps are dissolved in the mouth medicinal vapor is released and breathed to all parts of the bronchial tubes and the minute air cells of the lungs, soothing the inflammation and consequent irritation, healing the sore places and ending the cough.

Next time you are troubled with a cough, sore throat, bronchitis or laryngitis, take Peps and prove for yourself the superiority of the direct treatment. All dealers 50c.

He walked into the employment agency wearing a smile and born-tired look, as well as a few other things.

"Any vacancies for a man like me?" he asked, as he arranged himself comfortably along the counter.

"What is your trade or profession?"

"My trade or profession?" he repeated, yawning. "I'm a coronation programme seller."

"I see!" said the clerk dryly. "No we have nothing in that line open just now!"

"I'd take something else if it suited me and I thought I could do it properly, you know!" he went on making himself more comfortable on the counter.

"As for instance?"

"Well," replied the born-tired, "I wouldn't mind calling out the names of the stations on board an Atlantic liner, or something of that sort!"

Convention Will Be Held in Vancouver Next Tuesday; Plan Wider Organization

T. R. The two delegates named were selected at last night's special meeting of the Victoria local.

One of the chief items of the Convention agenda will be the standing of men who have been honorably rejected for overseas service, in the matter of public appointments, their standing in regard to fishing licenses, unemployment and other matters.

During the proceedings, which will take place in the G. W. V. A. Headquarters, it is likely that a provincial executive will be elected and plans endorsed for extending the activities of the association into other provinces. Delegates will be in attendance from the various branches of the H. R. V. C. in the Province. Following the business meeting an entertainment will be provided.

NOW TAKING STEPS TO RE-ESTABLISH TWO-YEAR COURSE

University Committee Meets to Arrange Details; No Hope For This Year Now

SENATE DECISIONS BEFORE SCHOOL BOARD

After allowing the matter to drag on since last spring, the British Columbia University authorities at last have started to do something toward looking to the re-establishment of the two-year college course at the Victoria High School. While the long delays have blocked the inauguration of the course this year, and have allowed the present unsatisfactory conditions to continue, arrangements decided upon the last few days make it certain that the course will be in operation in the fall of 1920.

It will be recalled that the Senate of the University late in August decided, on the recommendation of a special committee which had investigated the situation, to re-establish the much-needed two-year course. The details of the arrangement were left in the hands of another committee of which President Clinck was the chairman. It was understood by the Victoria school authorities that this committee would act immediately, and that at least one year of the course if not both would be established with the opening of the Victoria High School, or soon after. This, of course, would have removed the present senior matriculation course which is supposed to take the place of the first year of the college course but which, it is claimed, is considerably more arduous than the first year at the University.

Delay.

The committee of which President Clinck was chairman failed to meet immediately. In fact, its meeting was delayed until a short time ago, with the result that the senior matriculation course resumed and the re-establishment of the two-year course this year was made impossible. However, as stated, the committee met a short time ago and considered various details connected with the re-establishment of the course.

The committee, which consisted of President Clinck, chairman, Dean Robinson, Professor Robertson, W. Burns, of the Normal School, and E. B. Paul, Municipal Inspector for Victoria, was unable to complete its deliberations at one sitting and will meet again next Wednesday afternoon. It is hoped that at this meeting the committee will be able to finish consideration of all matters relating to the re-establishment of the course. A report will be made to the University Senate on the evening of the same day. After the Senate has ratified the report of the committee the conditions under which the University will re-establish the course will be made known to the Victoria School Board which will meet next Thursday evening.

Various Details.

The conditions the University authorities will decide upon is still a matter of doubt. Its decisions, of course, will relate to the number of teachers which must be employed to direct the two-year course, the matter of curricula, text books and so forth. One of the leading matters of discussion will be in connection with examinations. That is, it remains to be decided whether the University or the Victoria school authorities shall set the examinations.

to be written by students of the two-year course. As regards the number of teachers necessary when the course is established, it is pointed out that already there are sufficient teachers at the High School to teach the first year of the course, and it is thought that two additions to the staff will be sufficient.

SOLDIER LEADERS SUPPORT BARNARD

Ministers Also to Aid in Fight, Labor Party Managers' Announce

Major Richard Burde, M.C., M.P.P., of Alberni, and former Mayor of Alberni, came to Victoria to-day and announced that he would start out to campaign for the election of Thomas A. Barnard over the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture. Arrangements were made to-day for Major Burde to speak for Mr. Barnard at a meeting next Wednesday night.

Capt. Haines, M.P.P., of North Vancouver, notified Mr. Barnard to-day that he was ready to support him and would come to Victoria to enter the fight at any time he was asked.

Capt. Whittaker, provincial president of the G. W. V. A., of Vancouver, also notified Mr. Barnard to-day that he was supporting him and would come here to speak. Word to the same effect was received from Sergeant Major Jimmy Robinson, D.C.M.

The campaign managers of the Labor Party has arranged to have the Hon. Arthur Henderson, former member of the British War Cabinet, and who was recently re-elected to the House of Commons, come here to speak. The British members are now on his way to Washington, D. C., to attend the International Industrial Conference.

It was discovered, however, after the invitation had been sent that the Dominion Election Act prohibits speakers from outside Canada entering the country to speak at the election.

Tom Richardson, former Labor M. P., in the British House of Commons for Whitehaven, however, will speak in Victoria for Mr. Barnard. Mr. Richardson is now living in Vancouver.

Among the ministers who have come out in favor of Mr. Barnard, is the Rev. William Stevenson, of Victoria; the Rev. W. D. Spence, of the Congregational Church, and the Rev. J. S. Woodworth, who was recently released from Stony Mountain Prison, Winnipeg.

Mr. Barnard sent a challenge to-day to the Hon. Dr. Tolmie, asking him to meet him on his platform.

M. D. White and Dr. A. R. Baird Back From Kyuquot Sound

M. D. White has just returned to the city in company with Dr. A. R. Baird, President of the Alunite Mining & Products Company, from the Alunite and Pyrophyllite Property at Kyuquot Sound, west coast of this island. Mr. White is greatly impressed with the company's holdings, which consist of fourteen claims, four of which are crown granted. The claims take in the entire coast line on Easy Creek, where the Alunite and Pyrophyllite is located. There is a good showing on each of the claims, and Mr. White is especially impressed with the Morning Glory Claim, on which he finds an inexhaustible tonnage of high grade Alunite ore, assaying high in potash. Mr. White has had a long experience in mining operations, and says that he feels confident that the mother lode of Potash Alunite is located on this claim. The mouth of the crater lies on the top of an upheaval on this property.

The immense body of Alunite extending down to deep water on the other side adjoins the Monteith Claim, which is crown granted and was recently secured by Dr. Baird for his company. The facilities at this point for installing a plant are excellent. There is plenty of water and deep water shipping from all the claims. From the roasting plant an immense tonnage of Alunite Potash Fertilizer will be manufactured in the near future and shipped to all parts of Canada and the British possessions.

Mr. White also says that a high grade Potash Alum and a concrete for building purposes and by-products will be manufactured from the Alunite and Pyrophyllite Rocks at their stone factory located on Esquimalt Harbor. This building was leased from the Hudson Bay Company and is on deep water. It is pleasing to note that this kind industry will be developed from this valuable deposit of potash rock discovered by the Alunite Mining & Products Company on Vancouver Island. Both gentlemen speak very highly of the courteous treatment of the captain and officers of the Princess Maquinna on their voyage to and from Kyuquot.

Mrs. Moon: "Before we were married you said that my slightest wish would be your law."

Mr. Moon: "Exactly, my love, but you have so many vigorous and well-developed wishes that I am as yet unable to decide as to which is the slightest."

TO TRY TO RUSH CHINESE ON LISTS

Labor Managers to Bring Load Before Judge Lampman This Afternoon

An attempt to register another batch of Chinese on the list to vote at the coming Federal by-election will be made late this afternoon before the Court of Revision which is being held by Judge Lampman closes, it was learned this afternoon.

These Chinese will be taken to the Court House and efforts made to rush them through past the Judge by agents of the Federated Labor Party which is sponsoring the campaign of Thomas A. Barnard against the Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture. The labor men claim that they have the right to place on the voters' lists as many Chinese laborers as they can muster as long as the names of a number of wealthy Chinese are allowed to remain.

"Our attitude is that if any Chinese at all are allowed on the voters' list the privilege should be extended to the laboring classes among the Chinese and not restricted to the wealthy ones," said Mr. Barnard to-day. "We will not cease our efforts to get Chinese laborers on the lists as long as the rich and propertied Chinese have the right to vote."

Judge Lampman said this afternoon that he had not yet made any decision regarding the registration of the Chinese, but would likely do so when applications are made for them.

Many Protest

Following the announcement in The Times last night that wealthy Chinese were being made to rush in a large number of laborers, campaign headquarters of both Unionist and Labor parties were kept busy replying to complaints over the telephone from voters who said they would have nothing to do with the election if Chinese were to be herded to the polls in large numbers.

Women were especially bitter in their complaints, declaring that they would not vote at all if they had to go along with Chinese to the polling booths.

To-day both party headquarters were besieged with men who appeared in person to protest against swamping the lists with Chinese. Returned soldiers were much in evidence, saying that Chinese should have no right to vote since they did not serve in the war and were exempted from the draft.

There was great activity last night of agents for Mr. Barnard and the Labor party rounding up Orientals. The work is being carried on chiefly among young Chinese and members of the Chinese Republican organizations, as a large number of these are naturalized. If Judge Lampman permits the registration of the first lot of Chinese taken before him this afternoon, the Labor party organizers have arrangements completed to rush the Orientals before the Judge in automobile loads.

PURITY - QUALITY - ECONOMY

With the increased cost of labor and materials due to war conditions, it is not reasonable to suppose that a really first class baking powder can be made and sold at the old prices. Rather than sacrifice the quality of we found it necessary to make slight increases in price during the war period. Even though Magic Baking Powder may cost a few cents more than the ordinary kinds it is still by far the most economical baking powder on the market to-day when purity, strength and leavening qualities are taken into consideration.

THRIFT MUST BE PART OF NEW CITIZENSHIP

One of the Most Sacred Obligations the Country Has to Discharge.

Increasingly insistent is the demand that the schools of this Dominion teach citizenship—that they equip the child to do the full duty of a good citizen. It is not forgotten that the schools have for generations done excellent work; but the experience of the last four years has brought the realization that a change in method and in subject-matter—a shifting of emphasis—is urgently required. A young man may be an expert in arithmetic, in spelling, in writing, grammar, geography and every other subject on the curriculum and may, none the less, display qualities of brutality, injustice, wastefulness and treason—may, indeed, be a Bolshevik. An altered type of training, a new view of relative values, must come. A knowledge of the fundamentals on which rests the structure of democracy must be a part of all instruction worthy of the name. Education may make or mar a nation—it has done so in Europe and elsewhere.

What are the fundamentals? Honesty is one. Industry is another, and there are many more. Frugality is an important one, and one that is being overlooked in this new country. Canada was built on thrift, among other things—the pioneers were specialists in thrift.

Thrift is not hoarding; it is not miserliness; it consorts not with the pessimist. Thrift is intelligent care of money and resources, conservation for the future, wise and thoughtful spending. The thrifty man is an optimist, for he has stored up power.

And thrift must be taught in the schools. This will not add to the teachers' burdens, for every subject of study can be so taught that it helps to inculcate the practice of thrift. A thrift club in the classroom works wonders in the discipline of the school; it gives the pupils something worth while to talk about and something worth while to think about. United for a common aim, they learn esprit de corps. They come to know the value of money and the principles of business; they are imbibing the necessary preparation for citizenship. For the attractive investment of small savings, War-Savings Stamps afford an excellent medium. This plan has been highly successful in the schools of Great Britain, of the United States and of Canada.

Thrift taught in the schools encourages industry because children wish to earn so that they may save. And, more than ever in its history, this old world needs to go to work. Production must be increased. Produce, save, invest, must become the universal slogan.

THE LASSIE SCORED.

She certainly had red hair. It was a fiery, scorching, uncompromising no-possible-doubt-about-it kind of red. Her admirers—and she was tolerably good looking—talked of the "Titian" splendor of her tresses, but her young brothers had nicknamed her "Carrots."

A rude young man, an "Arry" from top to toe, entered the railway carriage in which she was seated, glanced ed at her once or twice, and tittered. Then he rather pointedly edged away from her to the far corner.

"Excuse me, miss," he giggled, "must not get too close to you, or I might get burnt."

And he burst into an insane cackle.

She was a Lancashire lassie, and quite equal to the occasion. "Don't thee fret, lad," said she, "thas' mooch too green to burn."

And the other passengers tittered.

"Look here," cried an angry subscriber, "you've been telling lies about me in your paper!"

"I know it," replied the editor coldly, "but what would you do if we told the truth about you?"

TO SHOWER SOCKS ON JELICOE'S MEN

When the sailors accompanying Admiral Jellicoe on his tour around the world reach Victoria, they are to be the objects of a sock shower. At least 1,100 pairs of socks will be given to the sailors, which is being planned by the Daughters of the Empire. One hundred and sixty pairs have already been turned in for the shower, and members are rushing work on nearly one thousand pair more.

A shipment of clothing for French refugees who may suffer from the winter cold this season is also being arranged. Members are busy getting together clothing of such styles as they think will suit the French taste. Both these showers are being managed by Mrs. J. Chow, field comforts convener.

The memorial consists of a brass tablet bearing the inscription: "In memory of the commanding officer, officers and ship's company of the A. P. S. Galliano lost at sea October 30th, 1918. Erected by officers and men of the Esquimalt Naval Station." At the evening service, on the same date, the Harvest Festival will be celebrated, at which special music, suitable to the occasion will be rendered.

GENERAL IS PROUD OF CANADIAN AVIATORS

Every squadron in the entire British Air Force cherishes the memory of work performed by Canadian pilots and observers, according to General Sir Arthur Currie, who talked with local aviators yesterday.

He said that the number of Canadians who stood at top-notchers in the flying game was a matter of pride to him as a Canadian. He declared that time and time again he advocated that all reconnaissance and patrol work over the Canadian Corps should be done by Canadian aviators. This would have made the Canadian Corps complete in every detail.

The general said that he was not at liberty to discuss the future of aviation in Canada, as that rests solely with the Canadian Air Board.

ALDERMEN TO DISCUSS SALE OF BALLOONS ON STREETS FOR MILK

Whether balloons are proper things to be sold on the streets of Victoria for a milk fund to aid impoverished families is to be discussed by the Mayor and aldermen.

Mrs. W. M. Ivel, regent of the D. G. O. M. Jones Chapter, I. O. D. E., had the chapter's scheme approved yesterday by the Municipal Chapter and now it is to go before the City Council. The date of the balloon sale on the streets is not yet set, although efforts will be made to pick out a day when it is not raining.

The Municipal Chapter has also granted the Robert Valentine Chapter permission to hold a dance in December and the "J" Unit Chapter for a New Year's dance.

ADVISES ON CHINESE COOK SHORTAGE

Hon. Dr. Tolmie Opposes Lifting Head Tax on Orientals

Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday discouraged members of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., from asking for the raising of the head-tax on Chinese coolies so that they could come to Canada to act as cooks, domestic servants and to relieve the labor shortage on farms. Several members of the organization were emphatic in their declaration that something should be done by the Government to relieve the cook shortage and the high cost of domestic servants.

Dr. Tolmie said that he knew things were pretty bad as regards the servant shortage, but he declared that Asiatics should not be admitted to Canada when so many people from the Old Country were willing to come out here.

"Your Chinese worker of yesterday is your competitor to-day in all lines of trade," he said.

Although the discussion of politics is taboo at meetings of the I.O.D.E. and the organization takes no stand in election matters, the members permitted Dr. Tolmie to thank them for the support they accorded him in his last election. He said he would be ready to be of service to them at any time.

The Esquimalt drydock is the realization of a long-deferred hope and the culmination of a close contest fought by J. C. McIntosh, M.P., R. F. Green, M.P., and myself," he said.

Dr. Tolmie commended the action of the Board of Commerce in dealing with profiteering in the hope of reducing the cost of living. He said that the Canadian system of establishing returned soldiers on the land is more liberal than that of any other government.

The chapter discussed plans for the Trafalgar Tag Day to be held under the Navy League auspices on October 21. Mrs. A. Thomson and Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, being the conveners. H. T. Ravenhill, of the Victoria branch of the League, also addressed the meeting briefly, appealing for the support of members during the forthcoming collection.

The reports received from the conveners of various committees were excellent, including that of Miss A. B. Cooke, educational secretary. Mrs. Mortimer Appleby, convener of the soldiers' graves committee; Mrs. J. Chow, field comforts convener, asked for donations to the sock shower for presentation to the men of Admiral Jellicoe's ship during its visit here next month, also for donations of clothing for the French refugees. She reported that of the 1,100 pairs of socks wanted for distribution to the sailors, only 150 had been turned in, and appealed for contributions as soon as they were finished.

Boy Scout Meeting.—The Victoria Boy Scouts will hold their annual meeting at the Collegiate School next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. All scout officers, members and associate members are asked to attend as important business will be discussed. Scouts who have served overseas will be in attendance and the affair will take the form of a general re-union.

Col. Peck on Coast.—Lieut.-Col. "Cy" Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P. for Skeena in the Federal House, reached Vancouver from Ottawa Wednesday. He returned hurriedly on account of the serious illness of his mother, who resides at Vancouver.

CHERNIAVSKYS AT EMPRESS TO-NIGHT

Trio Had Wonderful Reception in Vancouver; Fine
Programme

Patrons of the Cherniavsky recital at the Empress Hotel this evening are reminded that the concert will commence promptly at 8.30. After that hour the doors will be closed and late-comers will have to wait until the end of the number before being admitted, to avoid disturbance.

An especially attractive programme has been arranged. In addition to ensemble numbers, individual numbers will be contributed by Jan, the pianist; Leo, the violinist, and Mischel, the cellist.

The famous trio were heard in recital in Vancouver on Tuesday evening, and of their appearance there the critic of The Daily Province said in part:

"Before a very big audience in the ballroom of the Hotel Vancouver last evening the Cherniavsky trio were heard in a magnificent recital of solo and trio work. To those who have followed the Cherniavskys from their earlier appearance it must have been very noticeable that the lengthy tour which has been taken between now and their last appearance has done wonders, for their work last evening was superior to that at any previous performance here."

THIN PEOPLE NEED BITRO- PHOSPHATE

Increases Weight, Strength and Nerve Force in Two Weeks' Time in Many Instances.

The average person is beginning to realize more and more that the lack of physical strength and nerve exhaustion (frequently evidenced by excessive thinness) is the direct cause not only of the failure to succeed in life's struggle for the necessities of existence, but also for the handicap in one's social aspirations. Compare the thin, skeletal, angular frame with the well rounded form which is usually accompanied by the bloom of health and attractiveness. That millions of people are conscious of this handicap is evident from the continued appearance in newspapers and magazines of many suggestions proposing various remedies in food or medicine or exercise, either of which might or might not be appropriate for a given case.

Authorities, however, agree that healthy nerve tissue is absolutely essential to a strong, robust body and mind. Weak nerves, while indicated by a multitude of different symptoms, more immediately and generally result in lack of energy, sleeplessness, irritability, depression, etc., which conditions gradually consume the healthy flesh, leaving bony hollows, a flat chest, bony neck and scrawny arms and legs.

Our bodies need more phosphate than most of them are able to extract from the foods we eat nowadays, and many opinions affirm that there is nothing which may be taken into the human system that so effectively supplies this deficiency as the pure organic phosphate, known as bitro-phosphate and sold by good druggists everywhere.

The essential phosphorus elements in bitro-phosphate assimilated by the nerve cells should soon produce the changes in nerve energy and hence increased vitality and strength. With the burdens of nervousness, sleeplessness, lack of energy, etc., lifted, normal weight with its attractive fullness and ruddy glow of health replaces the former picture of skin and bones. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION.—Although Bitro-Phosphate is unexcelled for the relief of nervousness and attendant disorders, owing to its tendency to increase weight, it should watch the scale while taking it unless it is the desire to put on flesh.

A Diagram
PictureNote the Pointed Corn

Why Corns Hurt

Note this diagram picture of a corn. Note its conical shape. The cause of the corn is pressure. And pressure makes it hurt. The point of the corn is pushed into the nerves. Applying a Blue-jay plaster instantly removes the pressure. Note the felt ring (A) in the picture below. The ring gives barefoot comfort in the tightest shoe.

But that is temporary. One should not continue a ring. The corn should be quickly ended.

The bit of B&B wax in the center of the ring does that (marked B in illustration below). In two days, usually, the whole corn disappears. It stops the pain, then ends the corn. And it wraps the corn so the action is undisturbed.

Then the action of the B&B wax is centered on the corn. Held there by the rubber coated adhesive tape (C) which wraps comfortably around the toe. Healthy tissue is not affected.

These are the reasons why millions of people have adopted the Blue-jay method. Keeping corns is folly when this easy way can end them. Treating them in cruder ways is inexcusable.

For your own sake, convince yourself by applying Blue-jay to one corn.

TRAINING CRIPPLED SOLDIERS FOR WORK

Soldiers who have been deprived of limbs or become impaired in health, through their mighty efforts in Canada's share of the fight for the world's freedom, are being equipped with training and knowledge, which enables them to follow new and suitable trades.

The Victory Loan, 1919, will finance the continuance of this great work which is in the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment. The records of this Department contain many most interesting details in regard to the re-training of former soldiers.

A disabled farm laborer is now an adding machine repairer; a carpenter, who lost four fingers of his right hand is now a draughtsman; a former plasterer is now a laboratory assistant.

LETTER CRITICIZES MUNICIPAL DRAFT

Women's Independent Political Association Sends Letter to U.B.C.M. Meeting

Voicing criticism of the draft of the new Municipal Act, a letter from Mrs. Grace Johnston, secretary of the Women's Independent Political Association, Victoria, was read to the resolutions committee of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities now in session at North Vancouver.

Not coming from a municipal body it was not formally reported to the convention, the chairman of the committee stating that the thanks of the organization would be tendered to this body of Victoria ladies.

The letter said:
To the President and members of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities in convention assembled.
The Women's Independent Political Association begs leave to submit the accompanying comment upon the draft:

On February 10, 1919, the Women's Independent Political Association, of Victoria, sent a letter to every municipality, calling attention to certain clauses in the proposed Municipal Act. In the revised bill, the Board of Control has been eliminated but the other clauses still retain many of the objectionable features.

Eligibility.

In regard to the Court of Revision, clause 284, to which, it says, no person who is a member of the municipal council shall be eligible. At present the Mayor is, ex officio, a member of the Court of Revision, and it seems both wise and necessary that he, or some member of the finance committee who knows the amount of money required by the municipality to be raised by taxation should be a member of that Court.

I should like to call your attention to clause 270, section H, on exemptions from taxation, and ask what right has the Legislature to add to municipal exemptions?

In clause 175, power is taken from the Police Commissioners and given to the Attorney General to appoint a Crown Counsel for each municipality. This means another fat salary to come out of the pockets of the ratepayers for a Crown Counsel answerable only to the Attorney General. I presume that a City Prosecutor would still be necessary.

Answerable to Ratepayers.
Under our present law, should the Police Commissioners fail to secure a satisfactory administration of justice, they are answerable to the ratepayers, and can be removed by them. Under the proposed Act it would be much harder to obtain redress for unsatisfactory conditions. The appointment of a Crown Counsel would become a political gift with the municipalities paying the piper.

In speaking to a supporter of this clause, I was told that in certain municipalities where the prosecutors had been appointed by the late Administration, it was impossible to obtain a conviction against a Conservative. If this is the case, is it not possible that under the present administration, Liberals might find a like immunity? I believe there was a case recently where a magistrate was moved from his jurisdiction expressly for the purpose of trying a case which the local magistrates refused to try. We ask you to safeguard the administration of justice from becoming a matter of party politics.

Local Government Board.
In clauses 65 to 100, there is constituted a Local Government Board. This body, composed of three members, would practically control finances and local improvements and have power over all by-laws, to withhold or refuse registration without which they may not proceed.

How can these men know and understand the local needs of each municipality?

In addition to their salaries, which the municipalities would have to pay, it is as well to also recognize the opportunities for the legal profession in trying to elucidate this Act for the guidance of the Commissioners.

Again, in addition to this as set in Clause 234, Sections 5, 6 and 7, whenever securities have been deposited with the Local Government Board, they will, by agreement with the municipalities—and if you don't agree, by order of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council—take one per cent. of the amount realized. In the case of cash being handed over, they will collect one quarter of one per cent. for themselves, taking great care (section 7) to deduct for management expenses, a sum not exceeding one per cent. before doing any business for the municipalities. This is proposed political profiteering with municipal money.

System of Control.
From clause 65 to 99 an elaborate system of control is set up, only to be knocked flat in clause 100 by giving absolute power to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, so that at any time, of his own motion, and without any petition or application, he may vary or rescind any order or decision, rule or regulation of the Board, and that this decision shall be binding on all parties.

We object to this political trend being given to municipal business, and claim that the only qualification for municipal office, apart from the ordinary rules and regulations, is that the applicant shall be a good citizen. Whatever the personnel of municipal councils may have been, the onus lies with the ratepayer and not with the system.

We ask you to safeguard the interests of the municipalities, and in so doing protect the strength of the people's ballot.

The policy of this Act is to centralize power in a few.

The proposed changes are most drastic and need much consideration. The usurpation of municipal authority by the Provincial Government is dangerous and uncalled for. For, with one or two exceptions, municipal finances compare very favorably with the finances of the Province.

Not Re-assuring.

Our experience of Governmental intervention in Victoria is anything but re-assuring.

It has saddled us with an abominable street railway franchise, and in Victoria West and Esquimalt, with a water-works that never will and never can be adequate.

It has taken the theatre tax while the cities are responsible for law and order and pay for the policing of them. It has taken the tax on automobiles, and the cities pay for the upkeep of the roads used by them.

The Government now proposes to place three men in charge of your finances, local improvements and by-laws, you paying their salaries.

Municipal funds will become Government funds, bearing a welcome borrowing power, even as the assets of the Workmen's Compensation Act have done, and the Government will retain absolute control of the local improvement Board, in case of accidents, as set out in clause 100.

Crown Counsel's Salary.

You are to pay the salary of a Crown Counsel without either the privilege of appointing him or the power to dismiss him.

You are asked to relinquish the right to have a member of your body on the Court of Revision.

The Government proposes to relieve you of two-thirds of your power and responsibility without reducing your municipal salaries. But the ratepayer, already burdened to the limit, must pay the salaries of three Local Government Board members, and the additional cost in the matter of a Crown Counsel—and neither they nor you have any say as to what these salaries shall be—with nothing to gain and much to lose by the new arrangement.

Our present form of Municipal government is more democratic, and the electors are more closely in touch and have more influence with their Municipal Councils than in any other form of Government.

This Bill is a direct blow at the power of the people.

In this gathering you represent 85 per cent. of the people of British Columbia, and if this Bill becomes law, they will have the right to demand of you the reason why you allowed their Municipal ballot to be legislated out of two-thirds of its power.

In order to be supremely happy one must have something to do, something to love, and something to hope for.

CANADA'S PROSPERITY RESTS WITH YOU

Continued Business Activity and Good Wages Depend on Canada's New Victory Loan

DURING the past four years Canada's prosperity has been due largely to orders from Great Britain and our Allies.

Canada was able to obtain these orders because she advanced credit to these countries.

Canada was able to give this credit only because you bought Victory Bonds.

Great Britain, with France, Belgium, and other Allies, are now prepared to place large orders with us for the products of our factories, farms, forests and fisheries—provided Canada again gives them credit.

Credit must be given if we are to have any guarantee of good times and good wages. But our workers on these orders must be paid their wages in cash; so, much of the money that you invest in Victory Bonds will go out in wages to Canadians.

You will be absolutely protected—you will get a good rate of interest and all of your money will be paid back at the time stated in the Bond.

Every cent will be spent in Canada, and ultimately circulate to the benefit of all.

Canada can give this credit only if you again buy Victory Bonds.

If Canada is not able to give this credit, other countries will.

Therefore Canada's continued prosperity rests with you.

VICTORIA DELEGATION TOOK CONTROL OF LAST DAY'S DELIBERATIONS

Municipal Union Adopts All Important Principles
Enunciated From Island, Including Objection to Local Government Board—Attorney-General States
Attitude of Government

(By Times Special Representative)

North Vancouver, Oct. 10.—Three signal features will mark the last day of the 1919 convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities here. They are the overwhelming majority by which the convention carried the motion moved by the Victoria delegation to sweep away the Local Government Board clauses, the resignation of the union's solicitor as a sequel to the division, and the splendid showing made by the Victoria district delegation.

From a position of impotence at Penticton a year ago, due to instructions to the delegates, the Vancouver Island men to-day practically took charge of the convention, carried every important point, and ended in taking six of the twenty-two positions in the official gift of the organization, including three executive posts.

The Situation.

Alderman Sargent, of Victoria, stated that with a more definite knowledge of the issue during the past year, the opposition had increased rather than diminished to the local Government Board clauses of the draft act since the Penticton convention. "The proposition is not a popular one," he said. "If anything we are over-governed in this Province, and we are driven to our wits end in regard to taxation. Why court an increase of those difficulties? At the present time many men are sacrificing a great deal of time in the interests of the common welfare of the Province. The incentive to any man to work is to use his brains. If you take those powers from the municipalities, you will detract from that incentive to enter municipal work at all. The functions which are given by the act to the local Government Board can well be carried on by existing bodies.

"I object to the local Government Board as usurping the functions of the municipalities, and as an added expense. What would you do as an alternative? That would be the next question. Mr. Baird's office has been highly acceptable to Victoria, and the adjacent municipalities. My proposition is, therefore, that where jurisdiction is lacking give him those powers, and retain his services. It would be well to have a man with experience of accounting who might visit the outlying municipalities occasionally, and report to Mr. Baird." He, therefore, moved that the feature of a local Government Board should not be a feature of the act.

Structure Top Heavy.

Alderman W. J. Irwin, of North Vancouver, said the electors of his city, as well as the Council opposed the proposal. He, therefore, seconded the amendment. Personally he believed the proposal would take away the small prestige attaching to municipal control. No board could bring out the re-adjustments required until a new basis of taxation was reached. It would take away all the initiative and authority of the councils, he declared. If the principle was adopted, the whole structure of government became more top heavy. They were overdone now with commissions, and authorities and boards in British Columbia.

Defends Plan.

Councillor Shallcross, of Oak Bay, believed that further authority might properly be given to the inspector of municipalities. However, they might not always have Mr. Baird. They desired to set up an authority which would help the development of the municipalities. Something had to be done in the financial situation which was a burlesque on economics today. The municipalities had 95 per cent. of the Province's population, and 90 per cent. of its wealth. If the Government gave additional revenue, they had a right to co-ordinate control. He did not think a board would take away the powers, but rather in a thousand things it would give additional powers which councils had not had before. The act would give wider powers, and add to the responsibilities rather than detract from them. He foresaw rather the addition of power, for the municipal inspector would be freed from ministerial control. He believed they would get better results from the local Government Board than from the Municipal Committee of the Legislature. It will make us feel that we have a greater power than we have hitherto," observed Mr. Shallcross in conclusion.

Clerk James Greig, of Duncan, and Alderman Gordon, of Revelstoke, who followed. Alderman Gordon declared that the sinking fund clauses of the draft act were a mistake. The suggestion of supervision over finances was unnecessary. If efficient auditors were examining the books of the municipalities.

The district of Burnaby also lodged a protest, through Reeve Sanderson. The convention by an overwhelming majority went in favor of rejecting the principle of a Local Government Board, only six delegates favoring it, about 60 being in the room at the time.

On the suggestion of Reeve Bridgman, North Vancouver, the convention proceeded then with resolutions.

Other Matters.

Alderman Patrick defended the recommendation of Victoria that the present power of Mayors and Reeves to appoint committees be continued, subject to approval of council, which was carried.

The convention went on record with regard to other points of the draft, designed to safeguard powers now possessed by the councils.

It adopted the following clause: "That Mayors or Reeves should have power to return for reconsideration any resolutions passed by the Council, as now provided in the Municipal Act."

The convention having rejected the main resolution, its members refused to consider the two ensuing motions:

"That a Local Government Board can only be acceptable to municipalities if the commissioners have previous knowledge of municipal affairs."

"That there shall be three commissioners, and that the Inspector of Municipalities shall be the Secretary of the Board."

Victoria delegates secured restoration of clauses provided in the present act, but deleted in the draft, providing for special arrangements for sewer levies, and for the agreement with Saanich for parks management. City Comptroller Raymur pointed out that the situation was serious in Victoria if the clauses were not restored, because money had been borrowed on the security of the law as it now stood.

The resolution committee reported that municipalities should continue to have the management of their sinking funds, subject to the provisions of the present act.

Solicitor McDiarmid stated that in 1915, 1916 and 1918 the Union had asked for transfer of the management of sinking funds. It was not a governmental measure, and he had no instructions on the question.

There was some questioning of the solicitor's remarks, the Vice-President, who occupied the chair, stating that he never remembered the issue arising before. Others concurred.

The Attorney-General.

The Attorney-General stated that a new Municipal Act had been before the Government for two years. When the time came to introduce the Act the Government would take full responsibility for its character. The is based, not on the price paid for a commodity, but on the benefit derived. That is why Zam-Buk is the cheapest skin healer on the market—because the benefit derived is 95% greater than can be got from ordinary ointments. This is due to the fact that Zam-Buk is all medicine—100%. Ordinary ointments are 5% medicine and the balance animal fat.

The superiority of Zam-Buk is proved by the many cases of chronic skin trouble and old sores which yield to the power of Zam-Buk after all other treatments have failed.

The unusual power of penetration which Zam-Buk possesses enables it to reach the underlying tissues, where skin troubles have their "root." Then the germicidal properties in Zam-Buk destroy all germs. Until this is done healing can never be thorough. The reason why sores that have been treated with ordinary ointments break out again is because the remedy has never got to the seat of the trouble but has only healed over the outer skin. Zam-Buk, on the contrary, uproots skin disease, and the cure is complete and permanent.

Zam-Buk should always be used for eczema, ringworm, scalp sores, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, blood poisoning, bad leg, piles, cuts, burn and scalds. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

Zam-Buk

Government had accepted the nomination of the Union's solicitor as one of the draftsmen of the Act. The whole question was before the Union convention at Penticton. It was thoroughly threshed out and the principle of a board to control municipalities adopted, he stated.

He sympathized with the remark of Alderman Sargent that there was too much legislative machinery, yet that argument was no reason why this particular class of machinery should not be enacted in the interests of the municipalities.

Mr. Farris claimed that as Attorney-General of the Province he was called upon to put his signature to by-laws—he was obligated to that endorsement—of which he had no opportunity of studying and knowing the details. A year ago, said the Attorney-General, he had the unanimous endorsement of the organization and the Union's solicitor had been chosen at their request. Whether the Local Government Board would form part of the new Municipal Act was a matter of subsequent decision in the Legislature. The Government in the matter was for two years co-operating with the Union, because the Government had the right of the experience and knowledge of men interested in municipal government.

"We are entitled still," he said, "to receive from them any suggestions." It was rather a precedent that the Government had consulted the electors through their representatives in that way, but in view of what had just occurred he scarcely expected that the Government would be bound by the discussion which had taken place that day, or that it could be regarded as the last word on the matter.

A lengthy discussion followed as to whether the adoption of the resolution would prevent the convention from discussing clauses in the draft act dealing with the constitution of the Local Government Board.

Personnel of Board.

Reeve Bridgman and Councillor Loutet endeavored to clear the air by urging that the convention had become anxious about the personnel of a board, and its character. Mr. Loutet said the Union wanted an assurance that the men chosen, if a board was selected, would not be chosen by political influence, nor not necessarily returned men, but men of practical municipal experience who would enjoy public confidence.

Crown Counsel.

Explaining the appointment of proposed crown counsel, the Attorney-General stated that the whole foundation and basis of the administration of justice lay in the police court. He was responsible for the administration of justice, yet in some important details he had no control as Attorney-General. Take the case of Vancouver City. Mr. McKay, who was not of his political faith, though if he had the appointment to the city prosecutor's position in Vancouver, the speaker would continue him in that office, had the preparation of all cases when they were red hot, yet Mr. McKay was not responsible to the Attorney-General. Taking the example of the Attorney-General from responsibility to enforce the Prohibition Act. Mr. Farris said there was no doubt some change was necessary, and that there was no attempt to add further financial responsibility to the districts.

Before leaving the meeting, in replying to a hearty vote of thanks Mr. Farris said the Local Government Board clauses were essential to the added powers proposed to be given under the new Act, and as those clauses were not acceptable some drastic changes would be necessary in the general make up of the Act.

Court of Revision.

Alderman Sargent stated that the proposal to deal with the question of the Court of Revision, by preventing a member of a council sitting on a court of revision, was a retrograde step. The alteration would result in an outsider being called in to deal with assessment. He, therefore, moved that the composition of the Court remain as it is at present.

Mr. McDiarmid: "Again Victoria reverses itself. Victoria desired to have a final court. Now Victoria wants all the advantages of appeal," he remarked.

Alderman Sargent: "We have never made any application of this kind."

Alderman Gordon, Revelstoke: "You will have three men in who will cut down the assessment to nothing, leaving nothing but licenses for municipalities to go upon."

The resolution of Alderman Sargent was adopted.

Representative Requested.

The next motion was as follows: "That the Provincial Government be requested by this convention to appoint a representative appointed by the executive of this Union a member of the Commission appointed by the Hon. Minister of Finance to consider the question of Municipal revenues."

Clerks' Association.

The Union placed itself on record as favoring an organization, as suggested by Clerk Farmer, of North Vancouver, of municipal officials in British Columbia, and "that the various Municipal Councils who are members of the Union should be requested to facilitate the attendance of one or more of their respective officials at the meetings of the association."

On the suggestion of Alderman Irwin, of North Vancouver, the convention decided to ask the executive to take up with the Government the question of a hydro-electric commission, in order to secure cheap power in the municipalities.

Near-Beer Sales.

Restrictions on the sale of near-beer were urged by Trail, owing to the fact that no rules at present exist. The boundary municipality desired action on the basis of the old licensing law should be established.

As police magistrate of Trail, Noble Brinn, a delegate, said that some rules must be established as to hours of sale, and regulations for its disposal.

"The man who judges near-beer is a very poor judge of distance," remarked one speaker, amid laughter. The motion passed.

Future Procedure.

In order to save the waste of time due to the fact that the Resolutions Committee has to prepare its work during the convention, it was agreed that the in future thirty days before a convention the names of delegates should be submitted to the president, and from the list a resolutions committee should be named to meet the Executive Council and agree upon resolutions to reach the convention.

Authority to swear in interpreters by a returning officer, requested by North Vancouver, was sought in a resolution. The motion was rejected, although it was explained that such a power was given in the Dominion and Provincial Elections Acts. A lengthy discussion took place on the question of the cost of administration of justice.

Two resolutions were adopted, one to express the opinion that Police Magistrates should be paid by the Province, the other "that this convention protests against clause 175 in the new Bill providing for appointment of Crown Counsel by Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council at a salary fixed by Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council, but paid by the Municipality."

Mrs. Naggs: "I'm going to call on one of the neighbors this evening. John. Don't you worry if I'm not back by nine o'clock."

Naggs (cheerfully): "Oh, that's all right; I'll not worry if you don't come back for a week."

To-morrow the Great War Veterans' Association will appeal to the public of Victoria, for support for their proposed new Club. Taggers will be on the streets at an early hour and it is hoped that Victorians will display that same measure of generosity which has characterized their support of other patriotic causes.

An active campaign is in progress to raise a sufficient sum to purchase the Patricia Hall, where comrades will be able to meet and keep alive the spirit of service and comradeship created on the battlefield. The present Great War Veterans' Association quarters are entirely inadequate, necessitating a move to an earlier possible moment.

A business scheme was put forward whereby $10 bonds bearing interest at 6 per cent have been issued, and largely subscribed to by the returned men. Outside support is also necessary, and it is hoped the business men of the City will assist in making the venture a success.

RUGBY RESUMING THIS YEAR WITH THE ALL OLD TIME PEP

Stars Are Back and Eager for the Fray—Rain Gladdens the Hearts of Oval Ball Experts

Rugby this year promises to come back with the old enthusiasm that used to mark the encounters four or five years ago in the city, and with the old familiar names appearing on the roster of the different clubs bidding for a place in the series rugby fans should have a feast of hard battles.

Like Old Times.

"Last night's meeting was like old times again" was the general vote of those present. "The old crowd were nearly all back, although there are some comrades we shall never meet again, and all are eager for the opening games to be announced."

Prayer Answered.

Harry Boyd gave a parting injunction to the rugby men before they parted last night an hour or two after the regular business of rugby was disposed of. "Pray for rain" he told them. "The grounds at present need a lot of soaking and the sooner they are soaked the sooner we can put the first games on the list." This morning Boyd was going around with a big smile, and referring to his advice of last night as he watched the down-pour.

President George Day presided at the meeting, and there were representatives of the James Bay Club, the V. I. A. Club, the Wanderers, the G. W. V. A. As the Foundation Club was not represented a request was made that they would announce their intentions as early as possible.

Five Teams.

It was decided that the senior league would confine its membership to a maximum of five teams, and that all clubs joining should have their list of playing members in not later than October 31. It was also decided that all clubs should register their colors with the secretary at the time of application for entry.

The secretary of the Union, Mr. G. C. Grant, was appointed to represent the Rugby Union at the meetings of the local board of the Amateur Athletic Union, with which the Union has decided to affiliate.

Mr. J. M. Grant was elected secretary of the intermediate league, which up to the present is composed of the Naval College, the High School and the University School.

Secretary Grant was asked to arrange for two pitches for league games to be prepared at Oak Bay. The Oak Bay pitch will be used Saturday by G. W. V. A., James Bay and V. I. A. A. players for a practice game. The following Saturday the Wanderers and the Naval Brigade will engage in match practice. A request was made that all rugby players not registered with a club get into communication with one of the organizations, as secretaries are asked to hand in their registration lists by the end of the month, although games will probably be started before that date. Regular meeting of the Victoria Rugby Union will be held Mondays, the K. of C. hut being the probable venue.

The James Bay.

Every club this season will be able to call on the services of a squad of experienced players. The James Bay Club will probably be led by Monteth, who formerly played on the Law Students' forward line, and the Bays would have a job to select a more capable skipper. Norris, another former law student player, will also grace the forward line. The former Oak Bay Club is also making a contribution to the Bays, three of the Oak Bay players being also lacrosse men. Frank Sweeney will probably appear in the forward line. Cotton Brynjolfsson and Boss Johnson, who are both hoping to receive their amateur cards, are also keen on lining up with the Bays. Ken McDonald, one of the Oak Bay full-backs, who has also previously played for the J. B. A. A., is also expected to wear a James Bay uniform. Bob McInness, it is anticipated, will manage the team and also drop into the forward line when necessary.

The Wanderers.

The Wanderers and the Law Students are combining forces to play under the name of the Wanderers, and at a recent meeting every support for the club was assured.

The Wanderers have a great aggregation of talent. Nearly every man on the side is a returned officer and nearly every one has played on a representative team. Several have won their international caps. D. M. Grant is a Scottish international and has played on representative teams for Victoria. He is an old Watsonian. Grant is also a returned major. G. C. Grant has frequently played on the half-back line on representative teams. Lieutenant Stanley Williams played three or four times on an English international full-back. Lieut. Baum, who played one or two games last year for the V. I. A. A. and is also a representative Victoria player, is a former Leicester Tigers man. Captain Ackland, who recently returned from overseas, played for Victoria in the forward line. Eric McCallum, a 210-lb. forward; Sholto Gillespie, Earl Gillespie, centre-three-quarter, have also played on representative fifteens. Earl Gillespie's brilliant work on the occasion of the visit of the All Blacks to Victoria, is still fresh in the minds of rugby followers.

SOME RUGBY MEN WHO ARE AFTER RE-INSTATEMENT

Three rugby men's applications for amateur cards will be considered at the next meeting of the local body of the Amateur Athletic Union, which will be held Monday. Boss Johnson and Ed. Hrynjoifen, who were professionalized as a result of joining the ranks of the pro lacrosse men are both anxious to get back into the amateur game. Dal Thomas, who was a rugby professional in Wales, is also desirous of playing with the amateurs again. Dal made a start last year, but was ruled out of the game.

Other publications will also be dealt with at the meeting under the new rule made at the recent A. A. U. meeting by which the provincial body may grant amateur cards, which, however, limit the recipients to play in the three western provinces. Al Davies, regarded as the star broker in his class in the city, has for some time been anxious to get back with the amateurs. Billy Hill is another boxer looking for a card. J. Barnes, a wrestling professional, also has in an application.

The outcome of the applications is being watched with great interest by local sportsmen as the first applications to be dealt with under the new ruling.

TWO JACKS BILLIARDS.

A keenly contested match in the Two Jacks billiard handicap, played last night between Hall (rs0) and Henderson (scratches), ended in a win for the former by 15 points. Hall made a high break of 37 early in the game, and after that it was a neck and neck struggle all through. Hall's breaks put him in the lead for the prize for the highest break in a tournament in proportion to handicaps, the previous best being a 48 by Heyworth, who starts from scratch.

LACROSSE BATTLE MONDAY WILL KEEP INTEREST IN GAME

School Leagues Are to Receive Every Encouragement Next Year

The season of 1920 promises to be a great year for lacrosse. At the re-organization of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association, which was the chief object of the gathering at Winnipeg last September, the advisability of fostering the national game through the schools was one of the principal subjects under discussion. It was decided to encourage school leagues in all the cities and towns in Canada, and a committee was appointed to investigate the proposition from every angle and report back to the governing body at the earliest possible time. As there are no lacrosse sticks being manufactured at the present time, the only ones available being made on the Indian reservations of Ontario, a committee was also appointed to take steps to have sticks made in sufficient quantity and at such a price that they would be available for school leagues throughout the country.

Because of the desire to assist in furthering the interest in this movement, the present season series of exhibition games between Foundation and New Westminster was arranged, everybody agreeing that the more games played on the coast this year, the more readily could interest be established in 1920. The last of this series will be played on Thanksgiving Day at Royal Athletic Park, and will be worth witnessing, because both teams are out to win.

MANY CHANGES IN SOCCER TEAMS

Uncertainty Exists as to Outcome of To-morrow's Games

With several new players in the game and a number of transfers, the third lap of the soccer league series will be entered upon with the same uncertainty as to the outcome of any one of the five battles as existed in the first games of the season.

Yarrows, the league leaders, are opposed to the Fragments from France at the Jubilee grounds and the shipbuilders are anxious to make it three straight at the expense of the returned boys. Yarrows have never once managed to lower the colors of last year's city champions and the soldiers again look like getting the advantage of one of those muddy grounds on which they always appear to show their best form.

The games which start at 3 o'clock to-morrow will be:
West v. Harbor Marine at Beacon Hill. Referee, J. B. Dickson.
Foundation v. Comrades at Royal Athletic Park. Referee, W. Stewart.
Fragments v. Yarrows at Jubilee. Referee, Sgt.-Major Jones.
A. and N. Vets. v. North Wards at Work Point. Referee, D. Duggan.
K. of C. v. G. W. V. A. at North Ward. Referee, P. C. Payne.

Teams have been announced as follows:
Foundation v. Comrades.
Foundation—Bridges; Chester and Brown; Mesher, Clegg and Elliott; Kerley or Allen, Speak, Southern, Tule and Comer.

Yarrow v. Fragments.
Yarrows—Jasper; J. Ord and H. Ord; Roe, Young and Melroy; Roberts, Fairfield, Shearer, Popham and Brown. Reserves, Rodgers, Kerley, K. of C. v. G. W. V. A.

K. of C. v. Stevens; Sherman (capt.) and Breadner; McAdams, Fallen and Marshall; Savidant, Al McKinnon, Briggs, A. N. Other and Howden. Reserves, Roster and Barnes.

G. W. V. A.
Pendray—W. Kroeger and W. Allan; Askroyd, P. Forrest and W. Robbins; Knowles, W. Kerr, Bartholomew, Dowell and Rough. Reserves, Rudd.

West v. Harbor Marine.
West—Shandley; White and Copas; Okell, McKay and Thomas; J. Sherratt, S. Sherratt, Youson, Peden and Mulcah.

A. and N. Vets. v. North Wards.
North Wards—Menzie; Taylor and Dakers; Clarke, McDougall and Sweeney; Jeff Bafer, Cummins, Pettigrew, Wales and McInnes; Jimmy Cummins.

Semi-ready Tailoring:

"Some clothes arouse antagonism—they throw off an atmosphere of unfriendliness—"

"A loud pattern or an ill-chosen style causes criticism akin to antagonism."

"Joseph was the first man to get into trouble by wearing clothes of lurid hue; when he was rid of his coat of many colors he got up in the world."

"The offy great dresser who ever got ahead was Disraeli, but 'twas when he recovered from freakishness."

"In all our new Semi-ready styles and models, smart or conservative, there is a harmony of style and artistic expression."

"The touch of individuality—the expression of smart dress—is laid down with artistic impression—the creative genius of a good designer."

YARROWS LEADING THE SOCCER RACE

Great War Veterans and Foundation Elevens Next in Line

Yarrows are virtually leading the soccer league race up to to-morrow's game, and judging from the delighted Yarrows' supporters who have cheered their side to victory in the first two games of the season, after Saturday's battles they will have improved their standing by another brace of points.

The G. W. V. A. and the Foundation also have four points each, but Yarrows hold their position on the goal average, having kept their net free in both the games they have played.

Goal Getters.
The War Veterans have started out as goal getters, having compiled seven already. Two of the shipbuilders' points have been awarded in an unplayed game. The table made up to date by President W. H. Hadley stands as follows:

Goals	P.	W.	L.	D.	For	Against	Pts.
Yarrows	3	2	0	0	6	3	4
G. W. V. A.	2	2	0	0	3	4	4

FIVE-A-SIDE SOCCER MEANS SPEEDY PLAY

Lots of Stamina Needed For Thanksgiving Day Tournament

Soccer fans who like to see brilliant individual play and a short snappy battle royal will get lots of opportunity for witnessing that particular brand of football on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day at the five a-side tournament at Royal Athletic Park.

The star players of each side will be represented in the fight for the trophy, and although the time is shortened for the five-a-side matches the hot pace usually set in these games means that the players must work to a standstill to secure the points.

Interest in the tournament is running high among the soccer followers and a great deal of money has been staked on the outcome.

agers in making the selection of the five players with the necessary speed and soccer cunning to run throughout to the final.

While some of the clubs find they have a well balanced team working together well as an eleven they are lacking in five men of outstanding brilliance to arouse hopes in a five-a-side game. Other clubs with a few outstanding stars are looking to the tournament to bring them the honors of which they are not so certain the ordinary league games.

The committee in charge of the tournament will meet at the K. of C. Hut Saturday to make final arrangements.

"What is worrying you now?" asked the commonsense man.
"Oh, nothing much!" replied the man who is perpetually penive.
"I am merely trying to work out what has become of all the daylight I saved since we set the clocks forward."

Wilson's Snipe

This bird ranges over the whole of North America and the northern part of South America, and is usually found on marshy ground. The favorite feeding grounds are river meadows and moist land along small streams. Like the woodcock, it gets its living by boring in the ground.

By some hunters it is considered the finest of game birds, and it surely surpasses many birds on the table. It rises quickly and has a great reputation for artful dodging. It lies well to a dog particularly on still, warm days, but where the birds are very numerous the dog is likely to become confused and useless except for retrieving. This bird rarely travels in flocks. It migrates largely at night.

The Road to Health is Smooth and Clear If You Use Nujol

THE real Road to Health is an intestinal highway 30 feet long. When Constipation clogs this road, it's the same as when a landslide blocks a mountain pass. There is a difference, however. Constipation not only blocks the way, but breeds poisons which menace health. The obstruction in the mountain pass can be blown out with dynamite, and the obstruction in the intestines CAN be blown out with powerful drugs—but any drug powerful enough to do this is bound to harm the body. There is only one way to relieve Constipation without in the least measure endangering the delicate mechanism of the human system.

That is the NUJOL way. NUJOL is absolutely harmless. It is NOT a drug. Not a particle of it is assimilated by the body. All it does is to soften the mass impacted in the colon and lubricate the way to normal expulsion. NUJOL does this without causing any pain or discomfort. It does not in any way interfere with the digestive processes. It has no more effect on the delicate membranes and tissues than to smooth and soothe them. It is a healing force which gently but effectively removes the intestinal obstruction, and performs this great service to health without in any way lessening Nature's provisions for protection. Its sole province is to help Nature help herself. Nearly everyone is subject to Constipation at some time or other. Nearly everyone has proved the worthlessness of ordinary "remedies" as to lasting results. Now try Nujol—and learn that there is a lasting relief for this curse.

For valuable health booklet—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—free, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey) 50 B'way, N. Y.

Warning: Nujol is sold only in sealed bottles bearing the Nujol Trade Mark. All cheap imitations are sold in Nujol. You may suffer from substitutes.

BAND HAS JAZZED ITSELF INTO FAME

Musical Attraction Will be Feature at Orpheum This Week-end

President Wilson's Jazz Band, composed of 25 men from the Charlestown, Mass., navy yards, under the leadership of Ensign Alfred J. Moore, will top the bill of Orpheum vaudeville at the Royal Victoria to-night and Saturday with a Saturday matinee. None of these boys entered the navy as musicians, but were developed to such a point of perfection that to-day they rank, individually and as a unit, among the top-notch bandsmen in the country. While in this city the band will render the same orchestral selections it rendered before President Wilson in France, and wind up its programme with a series of stealthy, squirmy jazz selections that will set you dancing despite your efforts to restrain yourself.

On the same bill this week will appear Al Laydell and Carleton Macy both exceptionally clever character comedians. They are playing a little comedy with musical trimmings called "Old Croquet."

In vaudeville features, Leona Stephens and Len D. Hollister have been pegged as "bill toppers." They will present an act called "Out in California," a little musical playlet which has gained great applause wherever it has been shown.

Jimmy Savo and company in a salvo of screams will furnish a big share of the comedy which will be found on the forthcoming bill. Savo is a droll, eccentric comedian with eccentric as his forte.

Eddie Weber and Marion Ridnor are what the public pleases to term "vouthful prodigies." They are real artists and have little trouble in living up to their reputation. They sing and dance.

Howard Nichols billed as "The Ace of Hoops" will offer a novelty. Nichols is acknowledged the champion of the world and undoubtedly is the most marvelous of all hoop rollers and jugglers. His control over hoops is almost uncanny.

As usual Orpheum patrons may expect to round out an evening's pleasure in the Canadian films and Current Topics which will be thrown upon the screen. The Orpheum orchestra may also be depended upon for high class musical programme.

CANADIAN PLOT AT VLADIVOSTOK THING OF BEAUTY

Those who served with the C.E.F. (Siberia) will be interested to know that, before the entire force had been evacuated, the work on the Canadian Plot in the Russian Naval cemetery, near Vladivostok, had been almost completed.

This very important undertaking was most satisfactorily carried out by stone masons from among the Czechoslovak troops, under the direction of Canadian Force Headquarters.

The plot is now a thing of great beauty, of which Canada may indeed be proud.

The central memorial cross, designed by S-Sgt. J. W. Oliver, 16th Field Co., C.E., was unveiled by Major General J. H. Elmsley, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., June 1, in the presence of a large inter-Allied gathering.

A quantity of very beautiful photographs of this ceremony has lately been received from Vladivostok. Copies of these—in postcard size, or 5 x 7—may be had on application to Rev. H. McCausland, 34 Earl Street, Toronto, Ont., who acted as senior Chaplain with the force.

Domestic differences should always be settled in the kitchen. The dining room is no place for scraps.

CHOOSE MEN FOR HOUSING LOANS

Oak Bay Not Marking Time on Housing Scheme, Though Doubtful of Legality

While the city is still at sixes and sevens in the matter, the Housing Scheme is beginning to take definite shape in Oak Bay. The selection of men to whom loans will be given when the municipality actually receives its housing allocation will be made next week, it was announced to-day.

This will be a big step toward the construction of soldier houses, but the Oak Bay municipal authorities have by no means approached a point yet where they will be able to issue the debentures which the Provincial Government requires as a security for the housing funds, and, indeed, it is not probable that these debentures will be issued until the municipal council has satisfied itself entirely that such an act would be legal.

As a matter of fact, the legality of issuing debentures for housing purposes has always been the stone that has stuck in the municipal crop; and it continues to stick in spite of the assertion of the Minister of Lands that this point is specifically covered in the housing legislation. This legislation provides that the municipalities, in order to receive their housing funds, shall do all things necessary to the operation of the scheme, and the Minister thinks that this does away with any question of legality.

On the other hand, the city objects, and the Oak Bay authorities appear to lean toward this objection—that the Municipal Act gives the corporation no power to issue debentures. In the meantime, the whole plan is at a standstill.

Though it is waiting to see how the dispute over the legality of the issue of debentures concludes, Oak Bay is making hay while the sun shines by selecting men to which loans will be made. Other details have been arranged also and it only remains for the Council to proceed with the issue of debentures.

DELEGATES TO TELL OF WORK OF CONVENTION

Delegates to the Union of B. C. Municipalities, it is hoped, will have returned to Oak Bay in time to attend a meeting of the Municipal Council to-night. The delegates will thus be given an opportunity to describe to the Council the work of the Convention which had under consideration many matters of interest to Oak Bay. The convention, it will be recalled, paid a flattering compliment to the municipality by appointing J. J. Shaller, an Oak Bay Councillor, chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

NATIONAL WEALTH OF CANADA HIGH

Country Stands in Proud Position As to Riches Per Head

Canada leads the world in national wealth. No people are as rich. Even the high per capita wealth of the United States, a country the public mind pictures as reveling in money during the war years, is exceeded. Estimates of national wealth have been compiled during late years for most of the civilized nations of the world. The latest table is:

	Wealth	Per Capita
Argentina (1916)	$ 12,855,000,000	$1,417
Australia (1915)	7,882,732,620	1,539
Austria-Hungary	25,000,000,000	1,100
Canada (1917)	19,582,735,125	2,310
Denmark (1900)	2,000,000,000	850
Turkey and Bulgaria	4,000,000,000	150
United Kingdom	47,912,000,000	1,295
United States (1916)	228,000,000,000	2,292

These figures are not final, for the estimates were made at various times and by different methods, but any estimate would show the Canadian citizen as possessing a very happy lot in comparison with the citizens of most other countries.

THE FEELING FOR THE ARMY

None of the picture galleries in Europe or the United States ever approached the record of 19,000 paying visitors in one day, and 100,000 in two weeks. Such was the count at the turnstiles of the Toronto Exhibition Art Gallery, during the recent display of the pictures painted for the Canadian War Memorials Commission. It is understood that Mr. Kennedy, the English expert in charge, was so astonished early in the exhibition by an attendance of 10,000 in one day that he cabled to the British galleries claiming a record. Two days later the figure of 19,000 was reached.

The fact is mentioned merely to give an indication of the keenness of Canadians about the war, the soldiers, and everything relating to them. All through the bitter struggle the home-staying people of Canada gave the Army first place in their thoughts. Most of the families of Ontario were represented at the front and every appeal for the comfort and well-being of the boys came to willing ears and generous hearts. No one would have believed five years ago that Ontario had such a genius for giving. Millions upon millions were poured out. Selfish ease was dismissed and in many households avarice was a forgotten vice.

Then, after four years of generous donations, the people were asked by the Dominion Government to take up the Victory Loan of 1918. Many people pinched their resources to subscribe. The patriotic call gave added force to the economic arguments in favor of bond buying. The slogan "Bring the Boys Home" was irresistible.

Once more the Federal Treasury appeals for a War Fund. The boys have come home, but the repatriation occupied a full year and all soldiers had to be maintained and paid in the interim between the Armistice and demobilization. Gratuities have been increased. There are 20,000 lads in hospitals, some suffering from incurable injuries or maladies, many others on the slow road towards complete or partial recovery. The work of re-training disabled men and of placing soldiers on the land, with loans to stock their farms, requires a heavy expenditure. Altogether 32 per cent. of the $200,000,000 required this year will be expended for the advantage of the returned soldiers. The rest will go towards stabilizing business conditions in Canada and warding off hard times.

The need for money is insistent. The spirit of the people is still cordial towards the Army and undoubtedly the opportunities the loan affords will be welcomed.

OH! OH!
Lawyer: "Where did he kiss you?"
Pretty Plaintiff: "On the lips, sir."
Lawyer: "No, no; you don't understand! I mean, where were you?"
Pretty Plaintiff (blushing): "In his arms, sir."

Esquimalt Council Contemplates New Municipal Hall

PROPOSED MUNICIPAL BUILDING ESQUIMALT B.C.

The above is a sketch of the town hall according to plans drawn by Thomas D. Sedger and submitted to the Esquimalt Council for approval when they were contemplating the construction of a new hall in the summer of 1913. The plans at that time called for a building 50 by 52 feet and estimated to cost between $12,000 and $15,000. It was the intention to have the city offices near the main entrance, the police headquarters at the rear left, the prison cells in the basement and the Council Chamber at the front end of the second floor, with a roof suitable for sight-seeing.

CANADIAN FIRMS IN SPLENDID SHAPE

Number of Failures in Business Making New Low Records.

Among those barometers of business which financial men study to learn the national "weather probe," the figures in business failures stand almost first in importance. If the failures of merchants and other business men are many then an unsettled condition is indicated. When the failures are few it is an unfailing sign of good times. These facts are so simple and so well understood by business men that a glance at the current figures is sufficient for them to grasp their full import. But Canada to-day has more than a million people, not all of whom are engaged in business affairs, who have an interest through their holdings of Victory Bonds, in the state of the country's business weather. For them let it be said that the business failures in Canada to-day are the lowest on record. Last year, out of thousands and thousands of manufacturing and financial concerns, storekeepers and others doing business, only 873 had to close their doors. In 1917 the number was only 1,097. These are phenomenal figures and indicate a state of prosperity never before approached. The failures are probably made up almost entirely of people who had got into the wrong kind of business for in 1918 liabilities of the concerns failing exceeded assets by only about three million dollars.

To find a year when failures were as few as in 1918, we have to go back thirty-six years, to 1882, when business concerns were not half as numerous as they are to-day. It is an interesting fact that this year, the first after-the-war year, the numbers of business failures appear to be setting a new low record.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," said the conjurer with a wave of the hand, "this is the magic cabinet. I invite any lady in the audience to enter this cabinet. I will close the door, and when it shall be opened again the lady will have disappeared, leaving no trace."

There was an impressive silence until a little, undersized man in the second row turned to an enormous woman, who sat by him, and breathed eagerly: "Marion, won't you oblige the gentleman?"

CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL CASE BRINGS SCENE

F. A. McDiarmid Resigns as Solicitor of Union of British Columbia Municipalities

"That is a most unfair statement," remarked Solicitor McDiarmid, when Alderman Patrick was explaining the Roman Catholic Cathedral exemption case to the Union of British Columbia Municipalities at North Vancouver yesterday afternoon.

Alderman Patrick observed that the solicitor of the Union had acted in a case against the City of Victoria arising from the non-payment of taxes by the Roman Catholic Cathedral aggregating to the time of the suit about $16,000. The alderman was speaking to a motion that the municipalities should have power to unite in defending suits which involved general principles to all municipalities. The speaker made some observation indicating that the council for the Bishop had gone back for precedents to Old Testament times and argued that the Bishop of Vancouver Island stood as the delegate of the Almighty, who necessarily could not be taxed.

Canon Law

City Comptroller Raymur understood, he said, that the issue was that under the canon law all churches of the Roman Catholic and Anglican faith were exempt from taxation, and therefore all municipalities were vitally interested in the decision.

Alderman Patrick asked what would be the circumstances if the churches won and all churches of the denominations became exempt?

Mr. McDiarmid resigned the remarks drawing his name into the matter as unfair. He denied inconsistency anyway, as the Vernon convention had gone on record in favor of church exemption. He had drawn the Municipal Act in accordance with the instructions of the Penticton convention. In view of what had taken place and his desire to preserve his self respect before the municipal committee of the House, he therefore tendered his resignation as solicitor of the union. "That will relieve your objection," he said, and turned to Alderman Patrick.

The motion to co-operate was then adopted, but the issue of his resignation led to a lively discussion. Mr. McDiarmid refused to add anything further, although Alderman Irwin of North Vancouver moved a motion to suspend the office of solicitor for a year.

Should Have Solicitor Mr. McDiarmid left the personal element alone in a speech he made urging that the office of solicitor should be retained and held by a Victoria man. He declared a fee of $500 a year only paid expenses.

Alderman Sargent made a motion to offer the position to Harold B. Robertson, of Victoria.

Reeve Brighman, North Vancouver, and several other speakers paid tribute to the splendid service given by Mr. McDiarmid in the seven years he had acted as solicitor of the union.

Eventually the executive was given power to appoint a solicitor, provided that Mr. McDiarmid refused to reconsider his decision to retire.

world's humorous dialect stories. He reappears at the Pantages theatre with his inimitable ability. G. Swayne Gordon, a supporting cast of picked actors, presents a comic-dramatic playlet of splendid worth. "Oh, Teddy," the musical tabloid, which features the bill, is from the show shop of George Choo, from where emanated some of the best girl acts which makes the words "girl act" synonymous with "let's go see it." Darl MacBoyle and Walter L. Rosemont, the song writing team responsible for many of the late hits produced the musical numbers. Georgia Howard is a captivating miss who plays the violin artistically and puts lots of pep into her programme, with dance steps while on the stage. Cook and Vernon are a nifty pair who have a "Sister Susie" stunt which they "put over" in interesting fashion and Horas and Preston open the show with comedy acrobatics. Then there is the fourth episode of "The Carter Case."

PRINCESS

Last evening's dress rehearsal of the screamingly funny farce comedy "The New Boy" which Mr. R. N. Hincks and company are to produce at the above theatre commencing this evening, created much favorable comment among those who were privileged to attend. As a laugh producer, "The New Boy" occupies a prominent place amongst the world renowned comedies which have as their object, merriment and pleasure. The splendid cast which has been gathered together for this excellent production includes Mr. J. A. McCallum, in the title role assisted by Mrs. F. Bielby, Miss Dorothy Stuart-Robertson, Miss M. Butler, and Messrs. R. N. Hincks, A. M. D. Fairburn, S. G. Clarke, Alderman Andros and Drennan Hincks. With such a combination of talent to produce such a delightfully funny play it is no wonder that the management have predicted a huge success for "The New Boy." Tickets for to-night's and subsequent performances can now be secured at the box office.

Many a man who toots his own horn imagines he is the whole band.

tion of extreme artistic beauty. A superior cast, including Elliott Dexter, Gloria Swanson, Wanda Hawley, Theodore Roberts, Raymond Hatton, Sylvia Ashton and others, have been provided. It was personally directed by Mr. DeMille, from the play by Edgar Selwyn. Jeanie Macpherson wrote the scenario.

VARIETY

An immense amount of construction was necessary for producing "One of the Blood," the feature in which Douglas Fairbanks is starred on the Variety screen this week. The interiors like the exteriors are said to be a revelation, both as to magnitude and beauty. Although the new stage of the Fairbanks studios is among the largest ever built, it was not large enough for a tremendous interior of a palace. So one end of the gigantic stage was removed and sixty feet of flooring added to give the proper proportion to this beautiful and imposing scene. From the back of the main floor to the cameras measured 33 feet, which makes this probably the largest interior ever used in a motion picture.

COLUMBIA

On the strength of the marriage next day of Cheyenne Harry Carey-ton, played by Harry Carey in "Riders of Vengeance," yesterday at the Columbia, Dave Buell, a rival cattle baron of the old West, suggested the hatchet be buried and the feud between Buell and the Carston family be ended. Cheyenne consented, and the men clasped hands on it. When the wedding party came out of the church next day a murderous volley of hidden rifles spurted, and Cheyenne Harry was the sole survivor of the dastardly attack by the ruffians hired by Buell. Cheyenne swore to be revenged to the last man. Two years later, after an absence in the desert, he came back and killed a note in the town of Mesquite, containing the list of the men he was sworn to kill. One by one he gave them justice—the only justice they deserved.

ROMANO

It is a startling, surprising situation that June Elvidge, the famous and popular World-Pictures star, faces in "The Social Pirate," the new World-Picture which will be shown at the Romano again to-day. Miss Elvidge in this picture plays the role of Dolores Fernandez, a refined South American girl whose parents are dead, and who comes to America to achieve fame and fortune. Dolores finds a valuable bracelet in the street and pens a note to a newspaper advertising that she has found it. Then she falls sick. The doctor writes a prescription for her on the back of this note and the note is filed away in a cheap drug store. When the police, who search for the bracelet, find that Dolores has it and can't produce the evidence that she was going to advertise its discovery, they arrest her and she spends six months in jail.

MARSHALL SAUNDERS,
LOVER OF ANIMALS

Miss Saunders' early home was Halifax, Nova Scotia. While she was assisting her father, the late Rev. Dr. Saunders, with some correspondence with Dr. Rand, then a professor in the University of Toronto, the suggestion came from Dr. Rand, "Why does not Marshall write stories?" The suggestion was repeated and the result was a burglar story which brought a cheque for forty dollars from a New York magazine. The young writer's air castles were soon shattered by the steady return of subsequent manuscripts, but in 1892 she found her true field in writing. Her "Beautiful Joe," the result of six months' careful work, won the $200 prize offered by the American Humane Society for the best story about animals. This book is still very popular.

Miss Saunders lived for a number of years in the United States and has travelled widely in Europe and elsewhere. Her home is now in Toronto. She has written a large number of articles, stories, and books about animal pets, as well as several novels.

In her new book "Golden Dicks" she tells the story of a valiant little canary and the other pets belonging to a delightful family of animal lovers. Throughout the many attractive Incidents of the story Miss Saunders shows with her rare understanding of animal personality how the happiness of human beings is interestingly and beautifully connected with the love and mutual service between themselves and their faithful animal friends.

"Beautiful Joe," her famous prize story, is the autobiography of a dog which has been ill-treated by his master but was taken into another home where with a number of other animals he had an adventurous but happy life.

NO CHANGE IN THE SUGAR SITUATIONChildren Liable to Suffer
Through Shortage; Syrup
Being Used

There are no new developments in the sugar situation so far as relief is concerned but, on the other hand, matters are becoming more serious daily. In fact, it is so serious, said the head of one big grocery concern today that the Government should step in and take control of sugar handling.

Candy factories, ice cream parlors and other producers of luxuries should be curtailed in the use of sugar, according to a number of consumers who have been heard on the subject and who are beginning to feel considerably perturbed over the possibility of being unable to feed their children sufficient sugar to insure proper sustenance.

It will be a week from to-morrow before the next shipment of raw sugar arrives at the Vancouver Refinery and it will be nearly a week more before the refined product will be on the market. In the meantime what little sugar available is being doled out in small parcels and householders are resorting to the use of syrup. This by-product of sugar will also be scarce, however, at the present rate of consumption.

PRESENT PAINTING
TO DUKE'S DAUGHTERA Mary Riter Hamilton Picture
For Lady Dorothy
Cavendish

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—Several members of the Amputation Club of B.C. visited the vice-regal party Tuesday night at 6.30 in their private car at the C.P.R. station. This was according to a special invitation in which the Duke of Devonshire stated that he would be very pleased to receive them at that hour.

It appears that His Excellency is well acquainted with Mary Riter Hamilton, the artist who was commissioned by The Gold Stripes, which is the official organ of members of the Amputation Club, to make sketches of the surroundings of the historic places in France and Flanders, and in fact was of great assistance to her in gaining for her entrance into the war zone, something which could not be accomplished by a civilian without a certain amount of influence among the "powers" that be. Accordingly "His Excellency and party were very interested in the paintings and sketches that have lately been received by the club from the pen of this artist, and which depict scenes from various historic places on the western front. The majority of these sketches have lately been on display at the exhibition at New Westminster, and are very clever and original in theme and coloring.

Lady Dorothy Cavendish, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, was presented with one of these paintings as a gift from the members of the club. The sketch is a clever reproduction in oils of the interior of Arras Cathedral. On their departure, His Excellency expressed the great pleasure that the visit had caused to himself and the members of his family, and that he wished the Amputation Club every success in its future.

COATS OFF!

By Harold Begbie.

For England's faith and future a thousand years ago ball:
Who doubts our strength to conquer, who says our heart will fail?
So far we've marched in honor, so often we've stood fast,
Who says that we shall perish by our own hands at last?

Four hundred millions starving?—a world of bankrupt States?
Europe a debtors' prison?—Red ruin at the gates?
Out on your tale of terror! Strip off the coward's mask!
The more mounts English courage the harder is the task.

We'll set our engines roaring, we'll show the world agen
What pride is in our women, what wonder in our men:
We'll pile the quays with plenty, and swing rich wealth aboard,
We'll break the back of Hunger as we broke the Prussian sword.

And break the back of traitors, with blows that save the world,
For it's England's trumpet calling, it's her flag still unfurled,
It's England's fate we're handling, and hard our blows shall fall
On the sweater of the poor man, and the traitor of us all.

Get hence, you bloated Spider, with profits God shall rack,
Get hence, you Russ-fed Judas, the noose is at your neck;
No man shall be amongst us henceforth for evermore
Who does not live for England, true English to the core.

A famished world is pleading, Come, comrades, let us pull
Our weight, the weight of England, till every larder's full:
No famine, and no madness shall shake the world apart
If England's flag be flying from the keep of England's heart.

Now let the false man tremble, now let the tyrant quail,
The World's Need comes to sift us, with our Dead behind the veil:
The true man, kind and selfless, the brave man, strong and just,
Shall stand like rocks when treason has crumbled into dust.

We'll make a greater England in saving all the world,
For it's England's trumpet calling, it's her flag still unfurled,
A nobler, gladder England, in body, soul, and mind:
Coats off, sleeves up, and steady, for the sake of all mankind.

B. C. FEDERATION
LEAVES CONGRESSProvincial Labor Body Cuts
Away From Dominion
OrganizationAnnouncement Published To-day in "Federationist," Organ of Federation

Vancouver, Oct. 10.—The British Columbia Federation of Labor has withdrawn from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and has returned to that organization its provincial charter, according to an announcement published to-day in the British Columbia Federationist, organ of the British Columbia Federation. It is announced that a telegram to this effect was sent to P. M. Draper, secretary of the Congress, by A. S. Wells, secretary of the Provincial Federation, the message stating that this action was the result of the action of the Congress executive refusing the British Columbia Federation of Labor representation at the recent convention and the amendments passed at that convention to the constitution giving the Congress executive mandatory powers over the officers of provincial federations. Mr. Wells in a letter addressed to all affiliated organizations claims that the powers said to have been given to the congress executive constitute "autocracy of the worst kind."

A statement by the Federationist declares that the Provincial Federation will not be affiliated with the Federal Congress, "at least until the matter has been placed before the annual convention to be held in Victoria in January next."

RegionSupreme Council Grants Bulgarians Extension of Ten Days

Paris, Oct. 10.—General von der Goltz, the German commander in the Baltic provinces, is persisting in his refusal to evacuate the region, the Supreme Council has been informed. The Council this afternoon received a telegram to this effect from the French Mission in the Baltic states.

Copenhagen, Oct. 10.—British and French warships in the harbor of Riga have cleared for action, according to a dispatch from Riga to the British information bureau, on account of the attack by the German troops under the command of Gen. von der Goltz upon the Lettish army defending Riga.

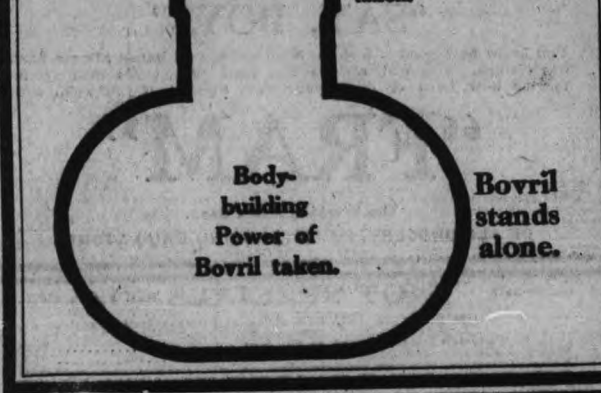

Paris, Oct. 10.—(Havas). — The reply of Marshal Foch, who was instructed by the Supreme Council to draw up the Entente's answer to the latest German note concerning the evacuation by the German troops of the Baltic provinces, will inform the German Government that the coercive measures contemplated in the Entente's early reply, viz: Suspension of the supply of foodstuffs and raw materials and refusal of all financial Bovril is one of the most precious food substances in the world. Its beneficent effects are immediate; it acts like a glass of champagne, but without the reaction which wine sometimes brings. Bovril does permanent good by building up the very fabric of the body.

After bringing human subjects to a constant weight on a standard diet, he added Bovril to the other food, and found the body-building powers of Bovril to be 10 to 20 times the amount taken.

facilities, will be carried into effect if Germany does not comply with the orders of the Peace Conference.

The German reply attempted to plead lack of power to force the German soldiers to comply with its orders and protested against a re-imposition of the blockade.

The note of Marshal Foch will fundamentally state that an inter-Allied Commission will be sent to the Baltic provinces to watch the execution of these orders.

Paris, Oct. 10.—(Havas). — The Supreme Council has decided to grant to the Bulgarian plenipotentiaries an extension of ten days in the time in which they are required to return their observations upon the draft of the Bulgarian treaty submitted to them September 19. The additional period will end October 24.

SATISFACTORY YEAR FOR LAKE OF WOODS

President Meighen's First Statement Since His Return From Front

Despite the handicaps under which milling companies operated during the past year the Lake of the Woods Milling Company closed very satisfactory year, showing total profits of $756,618.

This is somewhat less than was earned in the year ended August 31, 1918, but is considerably more than the results for the year 1917.

The total revenue was made up of $547,000 from milling profits and $209,000 from other sources. The milling profits shows a decline of some $54,000 from the figures of the previous year, but in view of the many government regulations and restrictions this must be regarded as a very creditable showing.

The report of the President shows that conservatism characterized the management of the company's affairs, due provision having been made for the strengthening of the reserve account, depreciation and the further development of the home market. In moving the adoption of the report President Meighen referred to the satisfactory nature of the year's business. He stated that both export and domestic business was unusually good, and he looked with confidence to the coming year's activities. In this respect he expressed the opinion that export business would show a slight falling off, but that domestic business should improve. Domestic business is excellent and the company is taking every possible means to develop the home market. An encouraging note was struck by President Meighen in regard to a return to normal conditions. "I feel optimistic that there will be a general increase in the work of reconstruction and production, and every month will show a gradual return to normal conditions. I think there is no reason to fear for the future prospects of your company."

In view of the faithful services rendered by the staff the President announced that a ten per cent. bonus on salaries and wages had been granted. He also stated that every one of the 250 soldiers who returned from overseas had been re-employed by the company, and that these men were among the most efficient on the staff.
